Teachers concerned about class sizes

Cost cutting by the Board of Education will have an impact on the quality of the Granite City school district's instruction, Federation of Teachers Local 743 says in its March publication.

"Larger class sizes decrease educational quality," the Local Logic comments. The Federation is preparing to inform citizens of its views.

The publication says, "The school board and administration are trying to convince the public that class sizes can swell to the neighborhood of 35 from the present 20 to 25 range without reducing educational quality."

"They cite research to support this claim. Often cited are... (works that) do not give a wholehearted, ringing 'amen' to a conclusion that large classes do not reduce quality. There also is much research which finds that small classes do provide higher quality educational experience."

Paul J. Porwoll in Class Size: a Summary of Research is quoted as saying, "There is considerable and consistent research evidence that certain teaching procedures and practices perceived by some educators as conducive to a productive learning environment (more individualization, creativity, group activity, interpersonal regard) occur more frequently in smaller classes than in larger classes."

Local Logic says Porwoll suggests that individualization, creativity and personal regard are not important enough to justify the expense of smaller classes. It notes that his comments were published by an organization funded by school administrators' and school board associations.

Class Size and Teacher Load, a New England study, is quoted as saying that "the school system that consistently arranges class size or pupil-teacher ratio at or below 25 is providing learning conditions for students and teachers as favorable as those enjoyed in the vast majority of communities in the U.S."

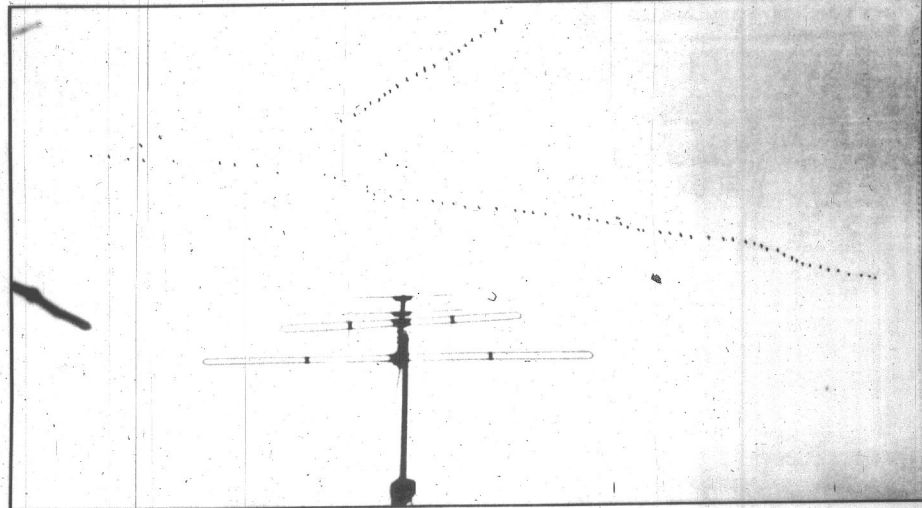

Martin N. Olson in Ways to Achieve Quality in School Classrooms says, "Any way one tries to slice it, smaller classes produce significantly higher scores than large ones."

Herbert J. Walberg and Sue Rasher in The Ways Schooling Makes a Difference comment, "Higher percentages of children enrolled in public schools and lower pupil-teacher ratios are significantly related to lower failure rates on the Selective Service mental ability test."

O. F. Furno and George J. Collins in Class Size and Pupil Learning say, "Pupils in smaller classes in both regular and special education curricula were found to make significantly greater achievement gains than students in larger classes."

In his Measures of Class Size Related to a Measure of School Quality, Bernard McKenna writes, "Teachers in small classes know more about their students, are able to keep better records of their programs, and are able to attend to their talents and

Judge studies GC public service program

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Madison County Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand is preparing a program where he can tell those found guilty in his court of misdemeanors or traffic offenses, "You can pay the fine in cash money or from the sweat of your brow."

Hildebrand is attempting to establish a program similar to the public service employment program currently operated for felons by the Probation and Court Services Department of the Third Judicial Circuit Court.

"President Ronald Reagan has taught us the government is not going to take care of us anymore. We have to take care of ourselves. This kind of program can help do that," Hildebrand told the last meeting of the Crime Prevention Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

"The problem in Granite City is 20 percent are unemployed. Every Friday (in his court) looks like a free cheese line. People are asking me if there is any way they can work these fines out. We get a lot of repeat business. Some people I fined in 1980 are still paying and are appearing before me to ask for more time."

"We need a system that keeps the city from getting sued, gets the point across to these law violators that you have to pay for your actions and the town could use a good cleanup."

"The city doesn't have the money to supervise this program, so we are looking for a program staffed by volunteers," Judge Hildebrand noted.

He said the program would be aimed, primarily, at younger offenders found guilty of misdemeanors. He said he would assign primarily those who want to work out their fines, but also may use it in some cases "to keep Mommy and Daddy from paying his fine, which does no good in teaching him a lesson."

Judge Hildebrand said he feels a youth working out his fine should do so at a credit of about $4 per hour worked.

Youths assigned to work details would be carefully picked by the court and would be subject to strict rules and violations of those rules while working would be seen as contempt of court and result in a court order of "Go straight to jail. Do not pass Go. Do not collect $200," the judge said.

He noted that if the program is successful in Granite City, it could be expanded to Madison, Venice and Ponton Beach. "I think it could snowball," Hildebrand said.

He said the program could be particularly effective if the work ordered fits the crime. "A kid dumping trash deserves to be sentenced to that," he contended.

Darrell O. Smith, chief adult probation officer for the county, said that public service sentences for offenders have "gone on since Christ." People feel that people who have done something should have to do something for everybody.

Smith noted that his program is used primarily for first-time felons who are not addicted to alcohol or drugs and who have no apparent mental illness. Persons recommended for public service, instead of jail first are screened carefully by Smith's office and then by the court.

A work-site supervisor, such as a superintendent of streets, park supervisor or other public official, then is assigned the task of seeing that the offender "works just like anybody else" and obeys all of the rules of the program.

He said jobs for the offenders also are carefully selected to pick public service jobs "that otherwise wouldn't get done. It is not intended to take a job away from anybody. I'm not going to send out loose marauding gangs with trash bags," he pledged.

C.A. "Bud" MacMillan, director of Coordinated Youth Services, said he has discovered that a service such as the Community Recycling Center which was closed when the overpass was built, is ideal for such a program, plus generates revenue.

He said other groups could be given saws and the city could dump all the tree limbs it cuts down in one place and the youths could cut them up for firewood for the elderly and needy of the community.

Judge Hildebrand said that, even though "dangerous and violent types are not right for this program," he would hesitate to give chain saws or other dangerous tools to those on public service release.

Hildebrand said the problem will be to find volunteers willing to supervise the workers. Finding alleys to clean, trash to pick up and other tasks should be no problem. Nor should it be a problem to find youths to do the work. "I have an unending supply of warm bodies," the judge noted.

If volunteers are found to supervise the program, Judge Hildebrand said, he probably will ask the Granite City Council "for a couple of hundred dollars for basic supplies and we could be ready to go."

Judge Hildebrand stressed that the offenders cannot be assigned to profit-making businesses. "We are not allowed to have consignment labor," he said.

Smith noted that in one out-of-court settlement, youths who had damaged several autos at a used car lot agreed to work off the damages by washing cars in the lot. "It worked out very well and the owner ended up hiring one of the boys," Smith noted.

Free butter giveaway underway

Surplus butter will be distributed Tuesday in Nameoki and Venice townships for residents there. Madison residents also may obtain butter at the Venice Township office.

Nameoki Township will receive an allocation of 711 pounds of butter and will begin distribution at 8:30 a.m. at the township office, 4250 Highway 162. Distribution also will take place at the State Park Fire Department, 3218 Arlington, State Park Place, at the same time.

Venice and Madison will receive 1,897 pounds of surplus butter, with distribution scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. at the Venice Township office, 1505 Fifth St.

Income guidelines for butter distribution are the same as for cheese distribution. Proof of income and residency in the distributing township is required at each location. Butter will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis.

The amount of butter provided to each family will depend on the number of people in the family, officials said.

Granite City residents are not eligible to receive butter in this program, it was noted.

The Salvation Army has announced the dates and times of its cheese and butter distribution for Granite City Township residents. Details are in a story on page six of this issue.

Chouteau Township started its cheese distribution today at 10:30 a.m.

Prosecutor cleared

Although Ben S. Urban testified Feb. 28 that he gave $495 to the 1980 election campaign of State's Attorney Don W. Weber, the prosecutor has been cleared of any omissions in his campaign financial report.

Urban, sentenced to a three-year prison term for looting bond funds by forging court orders, may have paid $495 for ten tickets to an October 1980 fund-raising dinner, Weber acknowledged Friday.

But only one ticket was for Urban, who apparently resented the remainder to three other contributors, records show.

A breakdown lists $48 from Urban and $148 each from the three other persons. The data was submitted Friday to the Madison County clerk and to the Illinois State Board of Elections.

Urban earlier is alleged to have said Weber was being too harsh in his sentence recommendation. To pressure Weber, he is alleged to have warned that he would assert that large sums of looted money had been accepted for the campaign.

Documentation was provided late last week by Assistant State's Attorney (Continued on Page 7)

Suggest GC sewer bills be doubled

The latest Granite City sewer rate study recommends residential rates be doubled to adequately support both current operations and needed plant repairs.

The report is the second of two independent studies to be the subject of a special public hearing beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Granite City Township Hall, 2660 Delmar Ave.

The rate report by Sverdrup & Parcel, St. Louis, suggests much higher rate hikes than the Granite City Council have been considering, which range from about $4.50 to $9 higher per quarter. The current residential rate is now $13 per quarter.

The Sverdrup & Parcel study, instead, recommends residential rates be set at $26.10 per quarter. In the future, if Granite City is successful in annexing Glen Carbon and Lansdowne Plant users, including Madison and Venice, the rate could be lowered.

Fifth Ward Alderman Jack Varadian, pollution plant committee member, said he is surprised that the report says

VANDALIA — The Trojans of Madison High School defeated Vandalia 81-53 in the championship game of the Vandalia Class A Sectional Tournament Friday and earned the right to advance to the Charleston Super-Sectional Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The Trojans, which have won the sectional tournament four times in the last six years, will now face undefeated and top-ranked Lawrenceville at Charleston. The game will be played at Lantz Gymnasium at Eastern Illinois University.

Madison is hoping to keep its record intact in super-section competition since the start of the two-class state basketball playoffs in 1972. In four trips to Charleston, the Trojans have advanced to the "elite eight" all four times.

In 1977 and 1981, Madison went on to win the Class A state championship. Madison was fourth in 1980 and was eliminated in the quarterfinals in 1979.

Percy challenges ruling on imported natural gas prices

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has sharply criticized the Department of Energy (DOE) following its Economic Regulatory Administration's (ERA) decision not to immediately act to curb the importation of high priced Algerian liquefied natural gas (LNG).

"It makes no sense for DOE to postpone action when consumers in Illinois and the Midwest will be forced to pay more than they should for natural gas next month," Percy said. "At a time when OPEC nations are reducing their prices almost daily, it is absurd to witness U.S. regulatory agencies helping to keep the price of imported natural gas well above fair market levels."

In announcing its decision today, DOE denied several requests and petitions, including one from Percy, to suspend, rescind, or revoke Trunkline's authorization to import Algerian LNG. Trunkline is a subsidiary of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company, the gas pipeline shipping Algerian LNG to Illinois.

The DOE decision follows one made by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) on Feb. 23, which allows a pass-through of the cost of Algerian LNG to Illinois consumers beginning March 1, 1983.

"The Department of Energy deferred its decision on whether or not this Algerian LNG is overpriced for six months," Percy said. "Anyone who looks at the situation can tell in six seconds that it is overpriced. Algerian LNG is almost three times the price of available domestic gas."

Arrest Alton woman on warrant

Venice police arrested an Alton woman last week after she allegedly continued to scream obscenities after being warned several times by officers and it was found that there was an outstanding warrant against her.

Mary Smallwood, 29, was arrested at Garrett's Lounge, 337 Weaver St. in Venice after police were told by a man that she was trying to damage his automobile.

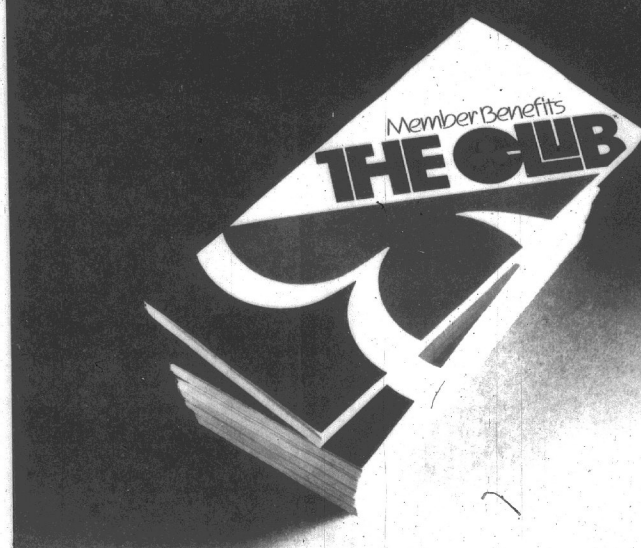

Both were told to leave, but she allegedly used loud and abusive language toward the man and the police. She said the man slapped her and police advised her to sign a complaint, to which she allegedly responded that she could handle herself.

As she was entering Garrett's Lounge, she allegedly called a policeman names. The officer followed her and she continued to call him obscenities. She was warned to stop or she would be arrested, but police allege she continued.

Force was necessary to arrest her on a disorderly conduct charge and a warrant from Alton on failure to appear in court on a charge of illegal transportation of alcohol. Bond was set at $1,000.

COMPLETES ONE UNIT TRAINING

Private First Class Thomas W. Walker, son of Willard R. and Joyce E. Walker, 1635 Third St., Madison, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad. He is a 1976 graduate of Madison High School.

Antique show at SIUE this weekend

The 13th annual Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Antiques Show and Sale is set for Saturday and Sunday, March 12 and 13, according to Sheila Stinson, executive secretary of the Friends of Lovejoy Library at the University.

The two-day event is scheduled in the University Ballroom. Times are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday and noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Proceeds from the sale will benefit the Friends of Lovejoy Library.

Items for sale include furniture, rare china, glass and crystal, dolls, antique jewelry, framed antique prints, books, pottery and many other items.

Admission is $2 at the door, $1.50 if purchased in advance and $1 for students. Children under 13 accompanied by an adult will be admitted free.

Tickets may be obtained at the information desk and the inter-library loan desk in Lovejoy Library or by mailing a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Southern Illinois University, Lovejoy Library, Box 63, Edwardsville, Illinois 62026.

Parking adjacent to the University Center will be free for this event.

SILEC board has meeting

The Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (SILEC) Board of Directors and Steering Committee recently met and accepted, with regrets, the resignation of board member Laimutis Nargelenas.

Nargelenas is former commander of District 11 of the Illinois State Police and recently was appointed as an assistant division of Criminal Investigation director. Because of the appointment, Nargelenas will be moving to the Springfield area.

The board also decided to initiate a search for the executive director of SILEC and revise the procedure for doing so. It was recommended that John Ellis be retained as interim executive director.

In other action, the board unanimously approved appointing Michael Henkhaus as fiscal officer for the advisory board. Henkhaus, who is treasurer of Madison County, was appointed to the fiscal officer position without salary.

The board also heard from Frank Thompson of the nominating committee's proposal for officers. The board voted on the committee recommendation and approved the following as officers: Bill Perkes, president; Fred Dalton, first vice president; Lester Campbell, second vice president; John O. Huetsch, treasurer; and Jerry F. Costello, secretary.

Perkes has been associated with the SILEC for six years and told the board he was honored to be present at the meeting.

State Senator Sam Vadala (D-Edwardsville) sent the board a letter in which he included correspondence written to James Zagel, director of the department of law enforcement, to move the Illinois State Police Laboratory from Fairview Heights to a location outside the Metro-East area.

Madison County Sheriff Emil J. Toffani, a member of the board of directors, also was present at the meeting.

Women's Day observance tomorrow

International Women's Day will be observed tomorrow at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The day marks the celebration of women's role in the struggle for peace and freedom, according to Unni DePrenno, a graduate student at SIUE, who will speak on "Feminism" at 10:30 a.m.

Information tables will be set up from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Goshen Lodge of the University Center. Deb Buer of Granite City, student body president, will give the opening address.

At 10:45 a.m., Shirley Williams, visiting lecturer in speech communication, will speak on "Sexism in Language." At 11 a.m., Johnetta Halsey, acting director of the East St. Louis Center, will discuss "Women in Management."

The principal speaker is Eldora Speigelberg, president of the St. Louis Branch of Women's International League. She will lead a march on "Women's Role in World Peace."

Hamedah Carr, a graduate student, will speak on "Women and Racism" at 12:20 p.m. Alison Hill, from the Hope Clinic for Women, Ltd., in Granite City, will discuss "Women and their Reproductive Rights" at 1 p.m.

Delicia Baghi, associate professor in earth science, geography and planning, will talk about "Women in the Third World" at 1:15 p.m.

Several dance, music and theatrical performances are scheduled throughout the day. The dancers include Connie McKenzey, Craig Kidd, Teresa Kehrer, Kris Stubblied, Corinne Conley, Angela Zell, Barbara Connolly and Carol Determan. The musicians are Julia Babb and Beth Janke.

A theatrical performance will be staged by Margaret Weissman. All performers are students at SIUE.

International Women's Day is sponsored by Women for Women at SIUE and the participants. For more information on the event, interested persons may contact Women for Women at 1-892-2019.

$75,000 BOND ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Michael Ray Murphy, 23, of Granite City, was brought from St. Elizabeth Medical Center to Granite City police headquarters last week on an active warrant alleging residential burglary.

The charge stemmed from a Nov. 25, 1982, burglary at 1222 Meridian Ave., reports said.

Murphy appeared before a judge, who ordered the bond to remain at $75,000 and then issued a mittimus. Murphy was transferred the following day to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

$359 fine on trespass charge

Responding to a fight call in the 2000 block of Washington Avenue last week, officers failed to find anyone fighting, but they did find a man, 34, of Granite City, who had been causing trouble inside her home and she wanted him to leave.

Officers noted that Catterton had a cut to the back of his head, apparently from an earlier incident. The man agreed to leave and said he was going to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. About 15 minutes later, an officer saw Catterton return to the house and again for transit.

Shortly afterward, Catterton allegedly returned for the third time and was placed under arrest. He was taken to the SEMC emergency room, where employees contended that he had become angry on his first visit and had walked out.

After receiving medical attention, he was booked on a state charge of criminal trespass to property. Catterton pleaded guilty in a court appearance and was fined a total of $359.

REMAND MAN TO ST. CLAIR SHERIFF

Ivor Roberts, 20, who was residing at the Tri-City Area YMCA, went to Granite City police headquarters at 2:05 p.m. Monday and reported a warrant had been issued by St. Clair County Sheriff's Department for his arrest.

Local police checked and found a warrant was outstanding against Roberts for failure to appear for trial. He appeared in the Granite City court at 4:30 p.m. Monday and was remanded to the St. Clair County Jail in Belleville at 7:55 p.m. Monday.

Labor Temple to reorganize

The Tri-City Central Trades and Labor Council, AFL-CIO, plans its first reorganizational meeting, since the Labor Temple, 204 State St., was opened in 1920.

Edwin Reiske, chairman, said a 7:30 p.m. meeting of the remaining 15-member board will be held at the temple tonight.

The reorganization is called for according to the original rules of the $45,000 bond needed to construct the building. The bond has now been paid.

Member groups have fallen from 47 to 15 since he took over the operations of the Temple in 1982, Reiske said. He placed the declining numbers on some unions "folding up" and others building their own quarters.

Madison schools study new policy to deal with thefts

By NANCY WEIL

In an effort to show that they "mean business," Madison School Board members have decided to set forth a new policy on theft.

The policy, written by Sam Dymas, president of the school board, was approved at the board's March 31 meeting, after minor revision.

Dymas was inspired to write the policy following the theft of equipment owned by Carlinville High School. Carlinville and Madison were sharing a locker room at Jerseyville High School and state members of an underclassmen Madison sports team apparently took the items.

The incident occurred Feb. 22, and the Jersey County Sheriff's Department notified Madison police of the theft. Charles Bridick, a Madison police sergeant, went to the home of one of the basketball players, who then took authorities to three other homes to retrieve equipment. All of the boys in "hired" returned the equipment they had taken.

While Carlinville High School authorities had considered prosecuting those involved, Daniel Kostencki, Madison High School principal, said that school officials were pleased to have the items returned and probably were not going to prosecute. He also praised Sgt. Bridick's work in helping to retrieve the equipment.

But board members did not seem satisfied that the return of stolen items constituted punishment for those involved. The boys were suspended from school for three days, but Dymas questioned the length, saying he believes they should have been "booted out" for 10 days, thereby forcing an automatic hearing before the board.

The new policy, however, stipulates that theft is "a crime punishable by disciplinary actions and will be acted on by the Madison Board of Education."

Five items are specified in the policy. Item one says that "all stolen items must be returned and delivered to the original owner or school."

The second item allows for 10 days of suspension from school without eligibility for return until a board hearing is conducted. "Expulsion" will possibly be considered at the hearing.

Item three says that "no extracurricular activities will be allowed for one year" to the date of the board hearing. Item four says that files will be "subjugated to the discretion of the police."

agency for consideration of possible prosecution."

The fifth item says that if any police agency finds that a student or students have been involved in a theft, either within the district or any other school district, while on any supervised school function, prosecution will be handled by the police agency.

The same items are applicable for thefts outside of the district. The board does anticipate making some minor revisions in the policy, but indicated that the intent will remain the same.

Kostencki said that theft is a major problem within the district and, although the new policy may not stop theft, "we're not going to condone it."

Showing that the school will not condone theft "is my main concern," he added.

With the latest incident, action was taken easily and effectively because an isolated group of individuals was involved away from the school, making it easier to pinpoint who was involved, he said.

However, most of the time theft occurs, there is no way to determine who is responsible unless the incident is witnessed. "Seldom do you catch the culprits," Kostencki said.

Board Member Don Garrett wanted to know if the board could take action if there was no admission of guilt. He questioned whether the board could determine guilt.

Although the board cannot assume the duty of establishing guilt, Paul Bargiel, who is a board member and a detective sergeant on the police, said that juveniles can be prosecuted anywhere, regardless of where the crime was committed.

The Madison Police Department could prosecute offenders if the victimized school decided not to pursue the case, he added.

In any event, the offenders would be suspended and not allowed to participate in any extra-curricular activities at all, including athletics and band.

The policy "not only refers to athletes, it refers to the entire student body," said John Palchiff, school district superintendent. The policy would be reviewed with all students in the district, he said.

Presently, officials are waiting for the board's decision on enacting the policy before deciding if the basketball players will be allowed to participate in athletics for the remainder of the school year.

Organize friends group for GC public library

The fledgling "Friends of the Granite City Public Library" book backers, ready to renew interest in library services, are raising funds, is preparing for an organizational April 17.

A pre-organizational meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Branch Library, 6 Nameki Plaza, Nameki Road.

Projects of the group, sponsored by the library board of trustees, may range from conducting tours through the library to assisting the library in making special purchases, beyond the scope of its budget, according to recently-approved bylaws.

Group spokesman Carol Canady said the group is holding a "Design-A-Logo" contest, open to the community, with the intention of displaying entries at the April 1 general meeting. The logo will be used on all Friends printed materials.

"Submissions to the contest for the symbol or logo should be drawn in India ink on white cardboard and be three-inches square. Entries should be sent to the Planing Committee, Granite City Public Library, 2001 Delmar Ave., Granite City.

Volunteers still are needed to help complete plans for the April 17 meeting and are welcome to contact the Planning Committee through the library. Also needed are cookies and refreshment supplies. Those interested in donating to the meeting may call Marcie Williams at 876-2622.

Membership applications to join the Friends are available at both the branch and main libraries. Dues are $3 for individuals, $25 for groups and $75 for life memberships. Charter memberships are available until May 31.

you can BANK on it!

DREW KARANDJEFF President

"I understand I may borrow against my bank savings account. What are the advantages or disadvantages of securing a loan in this way, and how is it done?"

A. You can probably borrow against your savings accounts whether they are in a passbook account or in certificates of deposit. Rates are generally low in such transactions, usually a point or two above the interest you earn on the account. If the certificate is about to mature, or there is an early withdrawal penalty, you may be wiser to borrow against the account. Of course, don't overlook the fact that the loan interest is deductible, if your tax return is itemized. Generally speaking, the rules governing such loans stipulate you may not borrow a greater sum than is in the account. The account, of course, becomes security for the loan. The transaction is usually handled as with any other secured loan. Whether or not this method of borrowing is to your advantage depends upon your situation. So, it's a good idea to talk over the options with your banker.

ICC ruling could go either way

Near that the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) has agreed to a request from the village of Buffalo to reopen consideration of Illinois Power's 19.9 percent increase in electricity rates and nearly a 10 percent hike in natural gas rates is a two-sided sword.

The limited rehearing will enable the ICC to either reduce or increase the hikes already approved. IP agreed to the reconsideration in hopes it can show it needs more money. Seventy percent of the increase $69.9 million increase will go toward constructing the nuclear power plant at Clinton and only 30 percent will help IP pay its bills.

In addition, unless Congress gets into the act, the consumers are going to face even higher natural gas bills as expensive imported Algerian liquefied gas sold to Illinois Power in lieu of far less-expensive domestic natural gas, although domestic gas is plentiful.

As we understand it, the pipeline companies overreacted when it appeared there may be a shortage of natural gas and entered into binding contracts to buy the Algerian gas. Now, they claim they can't get out of the contracts and will have to buy the gas.

Consumers should watch the upcoming proceedings carefully. We, after all, will have to pay the bills.

High school can be a great one

The human factor cannot be avoided in such major endeavors as the Granite City school system's attempt to end the alarmingly rapid growth of its operating debt. Students and their families are affected by scheduled cutbacks, as are the entire public and the district's staff.

With two first-class high schools that once served 3,000 and 1,800 students and now have enrollments of 1,300 and 1,200, officials had to choose between two skilled principals to direct the combined high school in 1983-84.

Either administrator could have done a fine job. More to the point, we believe Gilbert Walmesley will do well in the intricate task of creating what amounts to a brand new school this year, just as he did with the new North High a decade ago. Meanwhile, major responsibilities will be placed on James Dumont's shoulders as a member of the central administrative staff.

North area students and parents now know that a principal familiar with their individual wishes and needs will be in charge, even though the classrooms and surroundings will be new to them.

South area students and parents can be reassured that their role also will be respected as they remain at their present school but adapt to a 66 percent rise in enrollment and activities.

Walmesley, Dumont and others have been meeting regularly this winter to assure an effective transition for students.

Boys and girls at both high schools are giving direct input into the planning. Goats of the merger discussions is an environment conducive to sound education, including virtually all of the extracurricular programs with which the youngsters have become associated.

Sheer numbers will make competition keener, but not to a stifling degree. The Madison Avenue campus has been able to serve a big enrollment in past years, and use of a nine-classroom wing of the adjacent Coolidge School will help avoid overcrowding when the new ninth to 12th grades center opens in late August.

It can be a great high school—and will be, if everyone in the community works constructively to make it a success.

Ray of hope for new housing

With national housing starts expected to rise 36 percent this year, new life may be breathed into the local construction job outlook.

State Comptroller Roland Burris' statistics show the recession has had a severe impact. Beginning in the third quarter of calendar 1980, construction employment in Illinois fell in each quarter below the previous year's level for that period. Construction jobs averaged 157,000 in 1982—6½ percent below the 1981 average and 16 percent below 1980.

New housing permits bottomed out in the first quarter of 1982 at 265 per month, before surging to a monthly average of 2,157 permits in the third quarter, up 72 percent over the third quarter of 1981.

The value of contracts for future construction also shows signs of recovering. Illinois contract values in 1982 were $4.8 billion, five percent less than in 1981, 13 percent less than 1980 and 33 percent below 1979. But for the fourth quarter of 1982, the value level advanced, chalking up a 34 percent gain over October-December, 1981.

Further bolstering the outlook, Realtors have compared the relationship between median family earnings and the income needed to qualify for purchase of a single-family home. Their conclusion: Lower mortgage interest rates, relatively stable home prices and rising family income combined to make homes more affordable in January.

The affordability index was 78.9 percent, a 1.1 improvement over December. This means that a family earning $23,197, the median income, had 78.9 percent of what was necessary to qualify for purchase of a median-priced residence, costing $92,500.

The last time the index was 100—meaning median income was exactly what was needed to buy a median home—was in February 1979. The index has been below 100 ever since.

Although affordability is still a problem—have you priced a home in California lately?—January was the eighth consecutive month of improvement from the low of 64.3 in May 1982.

What is needed for a faster remedy? The Realtors say, "As long as the government's annual (federal deficit) borrowing is in the $200 billion range, competing for private capital, interest rates will be prevented from falling to the historic 3½ percentage points above the inflation rate."

"Based on the experience of the past 30 years, mortgage rates should be 8½ percent, not 13½. If that were the case, the home affordability index right now would be 118.6."

Budget can make state poorer

Comment by Southern Illinois University Chancellor Kenneth Shaw — While the short-run problems in the governor's 1983-84 austerity budget are disastrous, the long-range implications of such budget cuts are more profoundly harmful.

We would be forced to cut back and cut down on all elements of higher education in Illinois. Our struggle would be to survive, to try to maintain some semblance of quality in performing our severely diminished mission.

There would be no possible way that higher education could play a major role in this state's economic development.

The structural changes which are occurring in our economy will increasingly call for higher education to play a major role in "human capital" information. But this accomplishment would seem impossible.

The short-run disaster would seem small compared to the longer-term catastrophe, for the State of Illinois would become educationally and technically obsolete in a very short time.

We would not be competitive with other states and we would find our standard of living, now one of the highest in the country, decreasing rapidly.

This consequence is a condition that none of us who love this state and its people can allow to occur.

JIM SHEPARD

LEWIS GLASGOW

A member of the Press-Record editorial staff asked persons shopping at Crossroads Plaza what their reactions are to the federal government's recent decision mandating persons, such as waiters and waitresses, to report all tips, wages and other gratuities. Their reactions follow:

Jim Shepard, Granite City

"I've got mixed emotions about it. Some people can make a lot of money on tips if they work in the right place. For others though, their base salary is so low the tips are the only way they can make it. I think if a person is a talented waiter or waitress they should be entitled to a little extra money."

Lewis Glasgow, Edwardsville

"I work for the government and we're not allowed to accept any gratuity. I think if they make it they should have to report it. Income is income. The little guy who waits on tables should report what he gets just as the guy who works at the fanciest restaurants."

Jerry Cholevik, Granite City

"No, I don't think they should have to report what they make. Tips should be above taxes. For a lot of people tips are the only way of earning any real money."

Carolyn Phillips, St. Louis

"You know, it's a fine line and good, but I don't see how they can enforce the law—making people report their tips. If someone doesn't want to report a gratuity I don't see how they can make them. It all boils down to honesty. If they (the government) can do that (keep everyone honest) they can solve the problems of the world."

Costoff gives his support to Bob Grieve

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter to announce my support for Bob Grieve for Madison's Second Ward alderman. As a Precinct Committeeman for 43 years and a Madison alderman for 25 years, I have worked with a number of fine men and women striving to improve our city.

Now, as Mike Sikora retires, I have found a man whom, I feel, will continue the tradition of service to people of the Second Ward.

We, in Madison, have a lot to be proud of. But we cannot rest on past accomplishments. It will take careful planning and tough decisions to keep our city financially sound.

Bob Grieve can provide the skills and leadership our city government will need in the years ahead. He will work hard for all the people and will always be available to answer their questions and help with their problems.

I ask all my friends to vote for Bob Grieve on April 12.

Questions parking prices at medical center

To the Editor:

With the economy at the level that it is, I was appalled to have occasion to visit the hospital and find that it raised the rates to the extent that it now cost $1.25 after 6 p.m.

There was a backup of four or five cars, which I could not figure out, however, when I got within two cars of the booth, I noticed the new rate posted and pulled aside and went back out on the street to find other parking. I knew I was only going to be there one half hour and thought I should to pay that kind of charge.

Do you realize or care that if a person had to come down every evening for one week, it would cost a small fortune to park. This is capitalizing on the misfortune of others.

I know of a number of hospitals in the area that do not charge to park at all and others that only charge a fee of perhaps 25 cents for the privilege of parking in their lot.

I would think that with the rates that you charge in the hospital itself, that you could afford, like a lot of others to charge a small fee, instead of what you are doing now.

I would appreciate your comments on this subject. I am sure there are many others who wonder the same thing I do.

GERALDINE KNIPPING
1913 Maryville Rd.

(Following is the medical center's reply to Mrs. Knipping's letter.)

I appreciate the opportunity to answer your questions regarding our parking facilities at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. In your letter you mentioned that you are aware of a number of other hospitals that either do not charge for parking or charge only a minimal amount.

Obviously, this is the best possible situation for everyone concerned. However, if you recall just a few short years ago, when people came to the hospital they usually found no parking spaces available and often times had to park three or four blocks away from the Medical Center.

It is unfortunate that the problems this created not only for those with physical impairments but also those who were forced to walk those distances after dark. In order to alleviate that problem, the hospital began a campaign to provide additional parking space. This was accomplished but at a very substantial expense to the Medical Center.

Added to the initial cost of purchasing the land, the additional expense of lighting, paving and continued maintenance. If you compare the cost of developing our parking facilities to the parking rates which are charged, you will find that the hospital does, indeed, help to underwrite the operation of those lots.

A second benefit is that, due to recent additions to our facilities, you will now find street parking can usually be found within a block or so of our facility. For those people willing to walk the extra block or so, they will find parking at reduced rates, now more readily available than before.

As with all services provided at the medical center, we periodically evaluate the appropriateness of our parking facilities. We will keep your comments in mind during our discussions.

Candidates are limited to one letter of support

Today marks the first issue a letter of support appears for a candidate in next month's general election. Running are candidates for aldermen in Granite City, Madison and Venice, Granite City Superintendent of Streets, Pontoon Beach Village Board president and village trustees, and Granite City and Venice park commissioners.

As was done during the primary election, and was accepted well by the campaign, the Press-Record will allow only one Forum letter to be printed for each candidate during the campaign. Additional letters supporting candidates may be placed in the newspaper in the form of advertising.

All letters supporting candidates will be held by the Press-Record until each candidate has had an opportunity to select the one he wants used in the Forum. For candidates who have not selected one letter each by approximately two weeks before the election, the Press-Record will select what it feels is the most complementary letter for each and will run it.

Candidates are urged to contact the Press-Record about two weeks before the election to determine if more than one letter in his behalf was received.

Since the majority of the Press-Record's support comes from advertising revenues, we sincerely hope persons wishing to support a specific candidate will do so through that means, rather than being disappointed if their letters to the editor are not printed.

Eight local men join Army

Eight young men from Granite City recently enlisted in the U.S. Army and presently are in various stages of training.

All were enlisted through the Quad-City area's U.S. Army Recruiting Center, 3675 Nameoki Road, which is under the supervision of Staff Sergeant William G. Houghton.

The enlistees include: Private Douglas W. Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Barton, 2332 Orville Ave., who has now completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

A former student at Granite City High School North, he is currently involved in advanced training as a 62B construction equipment repairman, the career field of his choice, at the same military facility.

Private Barry C. Hellon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hellon, 2408 Sunbury Ave., has finished advanced training as a watercraft operator at Fort Eustis, Va.

A graduate of Granite City High School South, he previously completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C. The serviceman and his new bride are enjoying Army life, Sgt. Houghton reported.

Private Martin E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Furell, 2824 Dale Ave., is now assigned to Germany, where he selected to serve after completing advanced instruction as a 91B medical technician at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

A graduate of Granite City High School South, the serviceman took his initial basic courses at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., where he was commended for Outstanding Performance in physical training.

Private Stephen D. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Miller, 3084 Wayne Ave., is now stationed with the Frankfurt Honor Division at Frankfurt, Germany.

He is a graduate of Granite City High School South. Prior to overseas assignment, he completed basic and advanced training as a TacFire operation specialist at Fort Sill, Okla.

Private Mike Orasco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael L. Orasco, 1712 Sycamore Ave., is currently taking Advanced Individual Training at Fort Monmouth, N.J., in preparation of becoming a chaplain's assistant, the field of his choice.

He completed basic instruction at Fort Jackson, S.C. He joined the Army after attending Granite City High School North.

Private Paul W. Robertson, a graduate of Granite City High School South, is the son of Wilson M. Robertson of Columbia, Mo. He also attended Belleville Area College.

Presently, he is taking advanced training at Fort Gordon, Ga., as a 31J teletype operator, after completing basic courses at Fort Dix, N.J. He is expected to be assigned to Europe, the service area of his choice.

Private Steven M. Scott is a 1977 graduate of Granite

City High School North and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Scott, Rural Route Two, Box 762. He completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

At the present time he is taking advanced training as a ground surveillance radar crewman at Fort Huachuca, Ariz. His future assignment will be in Korea, the duty station of his choice.

Private Robert Thomas Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas, 52 Villa Drive, is attending advanced instruction courses as a 91B medical technician at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

He is a graduate of Granite City High School South and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

GC child identity program

An elementary children identification plan has been approved by the Granite City Board of Education. No child will be "identified" without the written consent of his or her parent or guardian.

A report by Vasil Efimoff, pupil personnel services administrator, related that "more than a million children in the U.S. are reported missing every year."

"Several communities and police departments have developed child identification cards which are provided for the parents. Usually, the card contains the child's name, birthdate, sex, blood type, height, weight, photo and fingerprints.

"Police Chief Ron Velzer highly recommends this and will provide personnel to train laymen to develop these cards. Mrs. Mary Brown of the Girl Scout Council also has offered to provide parents to help in this endeavor."

The card plan is to serve kindergarten through sixth grade youngsters.

The board approved expulsion of a North High boy who brought guns to the school;

he will be assigned to the Coordinated Youth Services alternate school. Also approved was a three-day suspension of a South High boy in an unrelated matter.

About 100 requests have been received to continue elementary band during class hours in 1983-84.

Helen Miller is accepting an invitation from the Association of Teachers of Mathematics to speak at a meeting to be held April 4-9 in Bogor Regis, England.

Returning from an exploratory leave of absence this fall will be Richard Zensel, a North High industrial arts teacher. Obtaining an exploratory leave extension for 1983-84 was Leneta Obermoeller, a Coolidge Junior High health teacher.

Sandra G. Peterson, an honorably dismissed teacher, resigned Feb. 28.

The board authorized

Bricklayers Local 65 to use a former South maintenance building for vocational training.

North future secretaries will attend a convention in Atlanta March 25-27 and South foreign policy students will visit Washington, D.C., and New York City March 25 to April 1. Both trips will be during the Easter school vacation and will utilize funds earned by students.

Long Lake firemen will use the Grigsby gymnasium Friday evenings, March 4 to April 1, for basketball practice. Wilson PTA exercise for adults will take place at Wilson School on Tuesday and Thursday evenings this spring.

Emerson Principal Al Wilson will address administrators and teachers in Hopkinsville, Ky., this month on Emerson's newspaper-in-education program.

Dinner to honor Todoroff

Robert D. Todoroff, band director at Granite City High School North, who is planning to retire at the end of the current school year, will be honored with a dinner-dance at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville, scheduled Friday, May 20.

All current and former band students and members of the Granite City North Band Parents Organization are invited to attend, according to Mrs. Edward (Wilma) Bowen, current band parents president.

The affair will start with a cocktail hour and cash bar at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 7 o'clock and dancing beginning at 9 p.m. The restaurant is located at 1200 Centreville, Highways 15 and 158, Belleville.

Cost of the dinner-dance is $10 per person. Reservations are limited and must be received by April 1, Mrs. Bowen said.

Checks for the tickets should be made payable to the Granite City North Band Parents Organization and mailed to: Mrs. William Gaumer, 2572 Waterman Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Individuals reserving tickets are being asked to include their full name or names, address and a telephone number.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Bowen, at 797-0314, or Mrs. Gaumer, at 931-3682.

MAKES TRAFFIC ARREST

William Leonard Mueller Jr., 19, of 2033 Pontoon Road, was arrested last week by Venice police and charged with reckless driving and illegal transportation of liquor. He was released at 9:55 a.m. after agreeing to pay $150 cash bond.

Auto crashes into dwelling

The front end of an auto which crashed against the rear of a dwelling at 1909 Rhodes St., Madison, partially entered the house and the impact injured the driver last week.

Gerald T. Murphree, 41, Fairmont City, was taken by Madison Fire Department ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted with an injury to the right side of his face.

According to reports, Murphree agreed to take a blood test at the hospital and was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and improper lane usage.

Murphree apparently was traveling south on Route 203 when his auto crossed the median and turned into Rhodes Street, striking the dwelling, which is owned by Elmer Noud of Edwardsville.

The names of the home's occupants were not available, but reports said the crash damaged the house's exterior and interior.

Murphree's driver's license was held in lieu of bond and he was released on notice to appear March 25 in the Granite City court.

COIN-OPERATED MACHINES ENTERED

Mike Miller of Granite City News Co., told police last week that someone was entering coin-operated, newspaper dispensing machines, apparently using keys, as padlocks on the machines were intact.

He reported an employee lost some keys about a month ago. Two machines at different locations recently were looted, including a machine outside the Kroger Co. store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center, from which $30 was missing the past weekend, Miller said.

Jobless rate 21.3%; eye federal bill

Although not as bad as during part of last year, the Granite City area unemployment rate rose to 21.3 percent in January from 19.3 percent in December, the Illinois state employment service said today.

Illinois unemployment climbed from 13.6 percent in January to 13.5 percent in February for a post-Depression record. The 13.5 is topped only by 14.8 percent in Michigan and 13.6 percent in Ohio.

Nationally, jobless virtually stood still at 10.4 percent of the civilian work force in February.

During the period when Granite City jobless increased from 19.3 to 21.3 percent, Madison County unemployment rose from 15.5 to 16 and St. Clair increased from 12.3 to 14 percent.

The same December 1982 to January 1983 comparison shows East St. Louis jobless rising from 12.9 to 13.6 and Belleville from 15.3 to 19.5, but Alton decreasing from 18.1 to 17.4 percent.

Meanwhile, attention is focusing on the federal jobs bill which passed Congress 324 to 85 Thursday, with Cong. Melvin Price voting for it.

The $4.9 billion legislation targets funds for communities with a jobless rate over the past year of no less than 90 percent of the national unemployment rate during the same period.

Such a community must also have a current jobless rate at least 20 percent above the national average, and must be eligible for money under the Urban Development Action Grant program, which has such criteria as a high poverty rate and substandard housing, streets and public buildings.

Sanitary District budget $3 million, up $376,000

A budget totaling $3,036,500, an increase of $375,978 over last year's budget, has been approved by the Board of Commissioners of the Metro-East Sanitary District.

President Walter "Shang" Greathouse of Granite City, said the district is hoping to keep its financial belt tightened and is confident the district will finish 1983 with money in the bank.

Charged with controlling drainage in portions of Madison and St. Clair counties, the district finished 1982 with a cash balance of just over $84,000, which was less than the cash balance at the beginning of the year, which totaled $1,099,922.

Greathouse explained that the revenue for this year cannot be projected until the district receives its assessed valuation figures from the two counties. Expecting this information by the end of this month, Greathouse said the tax levy will be set two weeks later.

No capital improvements are planned, but the general fund portion of the current budget, which covers daily operating expenses, is about $2.4 million. A total of $1.5 million of that amount is allocated for existing project costs, including pump stations, canals, dikes, levees and sewers.

A portion of the general fund expenses cover engineering services and maintenance. Illinois Municipal Retirement Funds costs, auditing and accounting services, liability insurance, and emergency services and disaster operations take up the remainder of the budget.

Although the sanitary district relies on real estate tax revenues and will not know its tax rate until it receives assessed valuation figures, it is expected the general fund rate will remain at 21.68 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, the legal maximum.

He also noted the rate per hour for a laborer was $2.36 some time ago but now has jumped to $3.39 and the amount of money the district receives is less and less, while expenses keep rising. At one time, the district employed 200 workers, but now has only 42 in response to the trend toward rising costs and decreasing revenues.

"We do not want to go into tax anticipation warrants unless it becomes a necessity, we have to tighten up all our budgets," Greathouse concluded.

commercial-industrial users are now paying a higher percentage and that residents should now bear a greater percentage of the expected rate hike.

"We were always told the residents carried more of the load, but, according to Sverdrup and Parcel, they aren't. So that's one of my questions," Varadian said, referring to answers he will be seeking at the public hearing.

Representatives of both Sverdrup & Parcel and Clark Dietz Division, CRS Group Engineers Inc., Urbana, Ill., will be present to explain the findings of their two independent studies. The Clark Dietz reports assesses the expenses, equipment and staffing needs of the plant.

A tentative report by Clark Dietz states the local Wastewater Treatment Plant is slightly understaffed and in need of more than $2 million in repairs. Varadian, who has contended in the past that the plant could be operated with fewer staff members, intends to probe Clark Dietz spokesmen about the methods used to arrive at their staffing figures.

The question of staffing size and proper rates put on hold for more than a year a rate increase, due to conflicting reports on circumstances at the plant. Terrance McMillan, plant superintendent, however, has always contended the plant is not overstuffed and that the current residential charges does not support plant operations.

City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic told aldermen during the preparation of the 1982-83 budget that a $9-per-quarter rate would be necessary.

Suggestions of higher rate charges launched protests from both city and Madison County residents.

J. Thomas Long, Weber's campaign finance chairman.

An attached statement by Weber criticizes Urban, former Collinsville city attorney, and says previously filed campaign reports disclosed a $495 item, although fund officials originally were uncertain who had used the tickets.

At his sentencing hearing, Urban said he had a canceled check for $495 and believes he may have contributed more but cannot document it.

In pleading guilty to theft, Urban was ordered to serve three years in prison and to repay $146,788 over the next five years. State law calls for any campaign gift exceeding $150 to be itemized.

"We did everything right and we have proved it," Weber commented in summarizing the situation. He said additional filings of the type he has now made are not required; the law says detailed records must be kept for two years by campaign officials in their internal files, but need not be filed with the county or state.

Weber questions whether the endorsement signature on the $495 check is valid, because it was signed Donald W. Weber and his name actually is Don W. Weber.

Donald Smith applies for Madison grid coach slot

The Madison School Board Thursday accepted the application of Donald J. Smith Jr., for head football coach at the high school and will consider the application — the only one received.

The position is open following the release of Al Vonder Haar by the board.

The board also learned that grass seed and fertilizer have been placed on both the soccer field and baseball diamond in preparation for spring sports.

Approval was given to the prom committee to have that event at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Meridian Ballroom May 7 from 7 p.m. to midnight. The band, "Self Control," will provide music.

Sam Dymas, school board president, asked Dolores Folkerts, curriculum director, if it would be possible for athletes to have the final hour of school scheduled for physical education. He said that some athletes have approached him about it and added that it would make it easier for practices to get underway.

Mrs. Folkerts said it has been tried before. "My experience has been that it's very difficult," she told Dymas. The computer number system determines when students have classes, she said.

Superintendent John Palchiff said that high school personnel would handle the matter as best they could.

The board also heard plans

REPORTS BEING HIT BY VAN OCCUPANTS

While on patrol in the 2800 block of Madison Avenue at 3:40 a.m. Sunday, an officer saw a woman walking who had blood on her face and appeared to be crying.

The woman told police she had been at a downtown Granite City tavern and left to walk home, following an argument with her husband.

Near St. Elizabeth Medical Center, a van occupied by three men and a woman stopped and she accepted a ride.

Once inside the van, the occupants began whispering and one suddenly struck her in the mouth. She began fighting back, the woman told police, and then managed to get out of the vehicle while it was halted at 27th Street.

She reported feeling dizzy and her face was swollen so she was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was treated and was released.

Shortly afterward, both the woman and her husband came to police headquarters and she described one man in the van as having long brown hair, about 5 feet, 5 inches tall and of medium build.

In Vandalia Sectional

Trojans overcome nervousness; win sectional

Meet Lawrenceville Tuesday in Super Sectional

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

VANDALIA — Even though the Madison Trojans had survived their first game of the Vandalia Class A Sectional Tournament, the Trojans were still nervous about their second game, the championship game, against Vandalia.

Leroy Pryor, a forward for the Trojans, went through all states of nervousness Wednesday in the Trojans' 52-50 overtime win over Bunker Hill, especially when he was fouled and had to make the two winning free throws. Pryor was still nervous for Friday's game.

Since this was the first sectional tournament in which any of the present Trojans players saw considerable action, it was understandable why they would be nervous. However, Madison overcame its nervousness quickly and defeated Vandalia 81-53.

Madison, 26-4 this season, will play top-ranked Lawrenceville, 30-0, at the Charleston Super-Sectional Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The winner of that game will go on to the state finals—the "elite eight."

"We were nervous and scared when we were playing Bunker Hill because their fans were so noisy," Pryor said. "We were nervous again tonight because Vandalia's fans were so noisy, but we thought if we could put it together, we could get them pretty easily."

"They were nervous about the game, and Pryor was scared Wednesday," Madison coach Larry Graham said. "It's hard to imagine some of those kids being nervous, especially Pryor, because he's definitely the macho type."

Vandalia coach Rick Moss, who saw the Trojans almost give away Wednesday's game on nerves, wished Bunker Hill would win because he knew he could beat Bunker Hill. I've been telling the kids all year long that we could beat Madison, but their quickness just got to us," Moss said.

Madison's defense is devastating simply because of the Trojans' quickness. Madison missed all four of its second quarter shots.

The Trojans gradually built onto the lead in the second quarter, taking a 38-28 lead at halftime. Madison missed all four of its second quarter shots. The combination of quick defense and hot shooting eventually wore down Vandalia. The Trojans were able to use the fast break often to take high percentage shots. When the inside wasn't open, the outside game prevailed.

Guard Victor Valentine led the Trojans with 21 points, Pryor put in 12 points, and John Hughes and Keith Wyatt both added 11 points for Madison.

In most of the Vandals' games, was held to SEVEN points before fouling out of the game with 4-22 left in the game.

"If Mefford would have been hot early, this would have been a different game," Moss said.

"If Madison can play like they did tonight, they'll beat Lawrenceville," Moss said. "They stayed with Mefford step-for-step, and if they can do that with (Marty) Simmons, they'll shut him down just like they just Mefford down."

"This may not be the best Madison team, Larry has had, but I've seen enough of them here and at St. Paul Highland to know this is the quickest team he's had. And quickness can take a team quite a ways no matter how big the other team is," Moss said.

Vandalia rolled with its crowd for the first six minutes of the game and took a 16-11 lead. Madison decided to take matters into its own hands by forcing three turnovers and scoring eight unanswered points. The Trojans led 16-16, and Madison was just getting ready to pour on the speed.

"Definitely. Our defense was the big reason we won by as much as we did," Graham said.

The Trojans gradually built onto the lead in the second quarter, taking a 38-28 lead at halftime. Madison missed all four of its second quarter shots.

Guard Victor Valentine led the Trojans with 21 points, Pryor put in 12 points, and John Hughes and Keith Wyatt both added 11 points for Madison.

Graham was particularly impressed by Valentine, who is starting to break out of his early season lull.

"We've been a very role-oriented team all year," Graham said. "We've had certain players who have had certain roles to fill, and it's good to see Valentine breaking out of his. He was a ball handler to start out with, and now he's shooting the ball well too."

Meanwhile, the other Vandals couldn't take up the slack left by Madison's defensive job on Mefford. Tom Dooley scored 16 points for Vandalia, Bob Betts added 12 points and Mark Daniels put it 10 points for Vandalia, which closed the season at 19-8.

Although this year's performance against the Trojans was lackluster for the Vandals, Moss expects the two teams to do battle frequently in the sectionals in the next few years.

"We have some young people on this team coming up, and we should be pretty strong in the years to come," Moss said. "I think Vandalia and Madison are going to be in some awfully close ones in sectional for four or five years."

Charleston: The 'super' Super Sectional

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

CHARLESTON — In the 11-year history of the Class A state basketball tournament, only the Charleston Super-Sectional can be called a "super" Super-Sectional.

Out of the first 11 tournaments, seven state champions have won the Charleston Super-Sectional. Lawrenceville has won the state tournament three times, Madison has won it twice, and Venice and Ridgeway have both won the title once.

State-wide basketball experts contend that this year's champion season is over. The Madison Trojans are the favorite to repeat as state champion.

The Madison Trojans are hoping to prove the experts wrong. The Trojans and the Indians meet Tuesday at Eastern Illinois University's Lantz Gymnasium. Tipoff time is 7:30 p.m.

Lawrenceville, 30-0 this season and the top ranked Class A team in Illinois, is going for more than its second straight Class A championship.

If Ron Felling's Indians defeat Madison Tuesday, Lawrenceville will break Quincy's record for the most consecutive basketball games won. The Indians demolished Fairfield 96-38 Friday to win the Bridgeport (Red Hill) Sectional Tournament to tie Quincy's record of 14 straight games. The Blue Devils set that record during the 1980-1982 seasons.

Lawrenceville posted a 34-0 record on its way to its third Class A title last season. Incidentally, the date the Indians last lost a basketball game was March 10, 1981. The place: Charleston. The occasion: The Class A Super-Sectionals. The opponent: Madison.

The Trojans demolished Lawrenceville 90-56. After putting away the Indians, Madison upset New Lenox. Providence, which was led by Walter Downing, in the first round of the state finals and won the state title.

This year, the way for Madison is a little rougher. Marty Simmons, who was a two-time sophomore two years ago, has matured into one of the best basketball players in Illinois this season. Simmons is averaging more than 30 points a game for Lawrenceville. Tim Leighty is another Indian who the Trojans will have to pay a lot of attention to Tuesday.

"We have to pay attention to Simmons because he's such a good ball player, but you can't neglect the rest of their team because their other players are very good too," Madison coach Larry Graham said.

Unlike Lawrenceville, the Trojans have no starters from the 1981 state championship team on this season's roster.

However, the Trojans have yet to lose a super-sectional game in their four trips to Charleston. Two of those wins have been against Lawrenceville.

Providence-St. Mel (25-3) meets Lenox Super-Sectional. The winner of that game will meet either Madison or Lawrenceville in the first round of the state finals Friday at 7:15 p.m.

In other Super-Sectional matchups throughout the state, Okawville (27-5) will play McLeansboro (27-3) at Carbondale, Brussels (22-6) will meet Havana (28-4) at Macomb, Nokomis (25-3) plays Tuscola (24-5) at Decatur, Mount Morris (18-9) plays Tiskilwa (26-2) at Rockford, and Pianagan (24-1) meets Hoopston-East Lynn (28-4) at Pontiac.

Kahoks leads South's season; advance to Sectional

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — For Granite City South's basketball season, their season is over. The Warriors, suffering the same demise that befell cross-town North earlier in the week: The Collinsville Kahoks, Collinsville went home victorious 78-35 and added yet another regional championship to their trophy case.

"You can't win with only one scorer. Not against good team," South coach Don Detering said after the game Friday night at South High School.

That one scorer is, of course, senior Warrior Pat Linhart. Linhart ended his prep career in fine form Friday tasting in 22 points on 11 field goals. Linhart didn't shoot a foul shot all evening.

Detering, who has suffered a drought in talent this year, recognizes one of the problems as the failure of Granite City kids to work on their game in the off-season but said that his senior star was a notable exception. "Pat worked his tail off between last year and this year and it paid off," the South coach said. Speaking of the rest of the team, Detering said, "They work hard in practice, but that's not enough. These kids have got to work their tails off in the summer."

"If these kids don't work it won't do any good. One or two might, but that's not enough," Detering said.

South started out the game looking tough, depending on Pat Linhart for the bulk of their scoring. In the first period Linhart didn't disappoint anyone, except maybe the Collinsville coaching staff. In the quarter he hit four shots in six attempts from the field accounting for eight of South's 10 points. The Warriors held a 10-0 lead at the end of the initial period.

In the second quarter, Linhart began to falter in the field, hitting only four in six in the period. At the half, the Kahoks led by eight, 25-17.

The surge by Collinsville was led by Marc Parker, who hit three long range baskets in the first three minutes of the quarter.

The beginning of the second half was crucial to South. Linhart won the tip, and John Linhart came up the court and missed a contested layup. Junior Collinsville center Mike Hunter took the rebound and went up the court quickly to score for the Kahoks. The next time down the court, Hunter stole a pass near half court, and dished on the break for another Collinsville score. South trailed by 12, and Detering called time out.

Both coaches saw that four-point spurt as the turning point in the game. "The most important part of the game is the first three or four minutes in the quarter," Kahok coach Gene Catalpa said. "If we come out and don't play well, they can get a couple of baskets and their back in the game."

Collinsville played well and from that four-point surge they were in total control of the game.

Detering said, "We got away from what we were trying to do. Momentum went their way, the kids got down. We made some mistakes against the press the second half."

Mistakes were one thing the Kahoks didn't make the second half, and in the third period Collinsville outscored the Warriors 32-8.

One key to South's failure to stay in the game was their inability to crack the press. In the first two periods, the Warriors played the seams and read the pressure well, dissecting it effectively. But in the third period they lost their intensity.

After dominating the period, the Kahoks coasted to victory, bringing in the substitutes to finish the game.

When Linhart exited the game he was greeted by an ovation of thanks from the South crowd and one of respect from the Collinsville side.

"He's the only kid all year who can score for us," Detering said. "It's just a shame we didn't have somebody to score along with him, somebody to take the pressure off."

The game was over and the fourth quarter was academic. Collinsville hosts the sectional tournament. South begins to build for next year, a year that is full of uncertainty. As the two Granite City schools consolidate, no one is sure who will be coaching basketball next year.

Perhaps Detering summed up the most frustrating season when he said, "If you can't shoot, you can't win."

Detering knows what Granite City needs to do to make a winner in basketball. The kids have to love the game, and they have to work in the off season. "Look at the good schools," Detering said referring to Collinsville. "They love the game."

Charity softball tourney successful despite rain

It was a terrible weekend for a softball tournament. It was rainy, cloudy and the temperature hovered around a chilly 55 degrees.

But that didn't seem to bother the 26 teams that competed in a softball tournament to benefit the American Cancer Society. They were in it to have fun and to raise money to fight cancer. For them, the rain was just a little inconvenience.

It all began Saturday at 8 a.m. and didn't conclude until Sunday 3:30 p.m. The 26 teams battled, and even waged wars against each other and the elements through 50 games before Donohue's Food and Drink of St. Louis edged the Christian Community Center Racquetball Club of Granite City for the championship.

"We were a little concerned about the weather," said Shelly Pohnman, chairperson of the event. "But when it began to rain everyone decided to keep on playing. I think they knew it was for charity, the Cancer Society, and they wanted to see it come off no matter what," said Miss Pohnman whose mother was afflicted with cancer.

The tournament, sponsored by McDonald's Restaurants, raised $1,300 for the American Cancer Society. As in most charitable events, there were people who gave of themselves as well as the event was successful. This was no exception.

Miss Pohnman and the American Cancer Society thanked the following: Ray Romine, Rick Connolly, Jerome Boyer, John Kulassa, Jim Hargshay, Art Asadorian, Mike Butler, Rita Overath, Charlie Parkinson, Jeff Reiter, Bob Fritchard, Tim Thompson, Randy Boyer and Bob and Charlie Pauls.

Miss Pohnman also wished to thank Mary Romine, Nancy Hargshay, Sue and Patty Stanton, LaDon Blason and Bernice Pritchard for working the concession stand as well as Lucy and Nicky Landa, Rita Cotter, Joe Lucido, Mike Lombardi and Linda Irwin for preparing the umpire's lunches. She also thanked McDonald's Jim Steele and Linda Denby for assisting in the sponsorship and assistance in organizing the tournament.

Miss Pohnman thanked her parents, Jim and Charlene Pohnman, for their assistance.

Girls' AA: A cage regionals begin this week

Regional tournaments for both Class AA and Class A girls basketball begin Monday at Granite City North and East St. Louis Assumption.

North, the top seed at its own regional, will play host to Granite City South, Edwardsville and Roxana in its regional.

Meanwhile, Madison is the top seed at Assumption, which hosts a six-team regional. Other teams at Assumption include Dupu, Lovejoy, Alton-Marquette and (Trenton) Weslin.

All four teams at North will be in action Monday. North takes on Roxana at 6:30 p.m., and South meets Edwardsville at 8 p.m. In the other first round game, The two winners meet each other Thursday at 7:30 p.m. for the regional championship.

Winners from the Cahokia, Belleville West and Jerseyville Regionals join the North winner at the Granite City South Sectional March 14 and 15.

"North, South and Edwardsville have proved they're capable of beating each other, and all three have a good shot to win," South coach Gary Morgan said.

At Assumption, Madison and Dupu earned first round byes. On Monday

Weslin plays Marquette and Assumption plays Lovejoy. On Wednesday, Madison meets the Weslin-Marquette winner at 6:30 p.m. and Dupu plays the Assumption-Lovejoy winner at 8 p.m.

The championship game at Assumption will be played at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The winners of the Assumption, Stanton, Litchfield and Pittsfield Regionals advance to the Bunker Hill Sectional March 14 and 15.

Super-Sectionals in both classes will be played March 21, and the State Finals will be held March 24-26.

South, though, primarily by the efforts of Trish Skinner, held on for the victory. Skinner led both teams with 22 points.

All three teams begin regional competition this week. North and South compete in the North Regional while Madison travels to Assumption.

Trojans, Steelers win; prepare for regionals

In the final week before they begin post-season basketball action all three area girls' prep teams were in action. On Thursday, both the Steelersettes and the Trojanettes took to the courts.

Against Dupu, the Trojanettes picked up their final win of the season before entering the Assumption Regional by downing the Tigerettes 43-37. Madison's Angette Dandridge paced the Trojanettes to victory with 15 points and 14 rebounds.

Madison Trojanettes

The Trojans fell behind early in the contest, 14-12, by the end of the first quarter, and remained two points down throughout the first half 22-20.

In the second half, however, the Trojanettes put together strong third and fourth quarters, outscoring the Tigerettes 23-15 for the win.

Also on Friday, Granite City North's Steelersettes faced Gateway East's Gateway Althoff, but unfortunately for the Steelersettes, that was the only similarity as the Crusaders went on to defeat North 71-67.

North started the contest slow, falling behind 20-5 by the end of the first stanza. They were fully able to recover.

The Steelersettes trailing 45-37 at halftime, put together a 24-point third quarter to move to within four points, 55-51, by the end of the third quarter.

Unfortunately, the Trojanettes recovered from its third quarter lapse to stay off North's 16-point fourth quarter to win by four, 71-67.

Leading both teams in scoring was Lisa Lilley with 20, while Paul Rozycki supplemented the Steeler attack with 19 points.

In the final girls' cage game of the weekend Althoff was not as lucky Saturday against Granite City South, losing 53-50 to the Warriors.

In that contest, the Warriors took a 35-27 halftime lead, but the Crusaders threatened a comeback in the second half outscoring South 31-15.

East-West All-Star Championships set for tonight

GRANITE CITY — Five seniors who wrestled for either Granite City North or South High Schools grapple squares this winter are among the 26 athletes who compete in the East-West All-Star Wrestling Championships Monday, March 7, at Granite City South's Memorial Gymnasium.

The event is an annual affair which features the best of Illinois against Missouri's best senior matmen. Wrestling action begins at 7:30 p.m.

Members of the East squad from Granite City are Colin Davis, 148 pounds, Rod Unger at 152 pounds, Bruce Widel at 145 pounds, Jon Frangoulis at 167 and Dave Brown at 185 pounds.

Davis, Unger and Widel were members of the Steeler grappler squad this season, while Frangoulis and Brown represented the Warriors.

wrestling

Davis, Frangoulis and Brown will wrestle in the same weight classes they have all winter, while Unger competes in the next heavier class, and Widel will compete one class lighter than he has all season.

Wrestlers will be classified in accordance with the Missouri weight divisions, which are similar to Illinois', with one exception. In the Missouri prep lineup, there is an extra weight class, 175 pounds, between 167 and 185 pounds.

In addition to the five Granite City grapplers on the Illinois squad, seven other East Side schools have representatives on the squad.

Among them are Belleville West's Tim Allgire and Al Keim; Cahokia's Vince Sharkey and Yogi Taylor; Roxana's Rob Milazzo; Belleville East's Brad Walker; O'Fallon's Mick Hunter; Edwardsville's Erik Brown and Lincoln's Earl Clark.

All wrestlers will weigh-in Sunday evening at 7 p.m.

Ticket prices for the evening of wrestling are $2 for adults and $1 for children.

Tri-City Speedway scheduled to open April 8th

The 1983 Tri-City Speedway season will officially begin on Friday, April 8.

To commemorate the opening date, Tri-City promoter Dennis Scott is offering 50 percent off tickets for the season's debut performance.

Ticket prices for the '83 season will be $5 for adults and $1 for children under 12. But, if tickets are reserved now, prices are $2.50 and 50 cents respectively for the opening night action.

The schedule for the season includes normal competitive racing on Friday nights with special shows on Saturdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Late Models will run the half mile, while Miata's will alternate between the quarter and half mile. Street Stocks and Mini-Modifieds will also compete in the quarter mile. Special shows include the Sprints, Highland Modifieds, the Busch Late Model series and MARA Midgets.

Also this year, all features will start inverted by weekly point average. This means the current point leader will start 16th in the feature. Persons wishing to attend the April 8 opening date for half price should reserve tickets by sending their name and the number of tickets they wish to reserve to: Dennis L. Scott, Scott & Blair Promotions, Inc., P.O. Box 764, Bonita Springs, Fla. 33923.

Persons are instructed not to send money. Promoters merely need a list of ticket reservations. Persons may pick up their tickets at the ticket window on April 8.

Sports Briefs

Venice softball team registration

The Venice-Park District is currently accepting team applications for summer men's and women's softball teams.

Team managers wishing to register their team should attend a meeting Thursday, March 10, at the Venice Park office at 7:30 p.m.

Teams wishing to participate in a Venice Park District summer league, but are unable to attend Thursday's meeting should contact either Rev. John Henry Williams, president of the Venice Park Board, at 432-3124 or Earl W. Hogan at 451-9914.

Final rink schedule

This is the last week for skating at the Wilson Park ice rink and a new schedule has been announced for the day through Saturday, March 12.

There will be only one session each of these days from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Also, there will not be the usual 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. session on Saturday and Sunday, March 12 and 13.

Khouy league registration

Registration for boys' Khouy League baseball and girls' softball this summer will continue next Tuesday and Wednesday, March 8 and 9, from 5 until 9 p.m. at Mitchell School.

The leagues are open to boys 7-14 and girls 7-15. Fees for the league are $10.

The leagues, sponsored by the Mitchell Athletic Club, is open to all youths in the Tri-City area.

For more information persons should contact John Cozart at 931-4083.

SIUE accepting registration for cage camp

EDWARDSVILLE — The Second Annual Cougar Basketball Camp will be on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville June 26 when more than 150 boys are expected to enroll in the first session of the two-week camp.

The second session, beginning July 3, is expected to top last year's mark of 125 girls, according to SIUE

Gancheff wins; carded Friday

Steve Gancheff, the 112-pound novice boxer and member of the Mexican Honorary Commission's boxing team, defeated Joseph Gilmarin of the Southside (St. Louis) Warrior Boxing team Friday night in Golden Gloves competition at the North County Recreation Complex at Veteran's Memorial Park.

Gancheff's victory over Gilmarin, was unanimous, as the gutsy 112-pounder took all three rounds.

Gancheff's victory qualifies him for a semifinal bout this Friday, March 11, against Robert Hayes of the Tandy (St. Louis) Boxing Club.

Merce Mendoza, MHC boxing coach, said Gancheff was "very effective" in his first bout.

Tickets for Friday evening's boxing action, which begins at 7:30, are $4 for adults and $2 for children under 12.

To get to the North County Complex, person should take Interstate 270 to Missouri Route 367. Take 367 north to Jerries Lane. Turn left on Jerries Lane and proceed to Redman Road. The complex is located at 2377 Redman Road.

can be obtained by calling the SIUE basketball office at (618) 692-2023 or by writing Tom Pugliese, Cougar Basketball Camp, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026.

Cost of the camp, which includes all accommodations, meals and equipment, is set at $157 per session. Applications and additional information about this year's camp

SIUE to host computer camps

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold a series of computer day camps this summer for children, ages 7 through 15, according to Don Baden, associate dean of the School of Education.

Co-sponsored by a 10-county micro-computer consortium, the day camps are scheduled June 13 through June 24, June 27 through July 9, July 11 through July 22, and July 23 through Aug. 4. Registration is $100 per session and a $10 registration fee. Fees must be paid at least a week before the camp is scheduled to begin. Students may register for one or more sessions.

No transportation will be provided for the camp. However, information concerning car-pooling will be available. Sessions will run from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

and students must provide their own lunches. Students will receive three hours of computer instruction each day, along with three hours of recreational activities. Two computer languages will be taught, LOGO and BASIC.

LOGO was developed at MIT and is based on Piaget's development stages. "It is a language designed for children to use the computer rather than simply responding to it," Baden said. LOGO permits students to teach the computer by commanding a movable triangle, known as a "turtle," to move any distance or turn any angle. In addition, LOGO can be used for more traditional computing with programming, language development, problem solving and mathematics.

BASIC is a computer language that allows users to play games, write letters, complete mailing lists, create questionnaires and solve complicated math problems. Students will learn the elementary commands, statements and arguments needed to create their own programs.

"Young children will have to learn to use computers in order to be able to function effectively in our society," Baden said. "The younger a person is, the easier it is for him or her to learn to use it. The camps will provide the opportunity to experience this learning with other enjoyable activities."

All camps also will be involved in both individual and group sports, as well as receive instruction in arts and crafts activities. Among the recreational activities available to the campers will be swimming, tennis, racquetball, basketball, soccer, softball, basketball and hiking. Additional information concerning these day camps is available by contacting Don Baden in the SIUE School of Education at 1-602-3643. Those interested in computer workshops for older children and for families may contact the office of Continuing Education at 1-602-3210.

HARASSMENT CHARGE

Gary W. Dacus Jr., 242 Lee Ave., was charged with harassment by phone last week. He was released on a notice to appear in court.

$100,000 bond on Mitchell man

Mark R. Donithan, 22, of 612 Margaret Ave., Mitchell, was arrested on four active warrants while appearing at a docket call at the Granite City court in city hall last week.

Bonds of $25,000 each were set on four warrants, which alleged assault, violation of the Domestic Violence Act, battery and criminal trespass to land.

The charges resulted from a weekend incident at the Granite City home of Donithan's former wife, whom he allegedly assaulted and threatened. A mittimus was issued and Donithan was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

REPORTS $140 TAKEN

Mrs. Connie Converse, 2015 Washington Ave., discovered Thursday that $140 in cash had been stolen from her apartment. When she talked to a woman about it, the thief victim was struck in the face with a fist and later was threatened with a pocketknife. She suffered abrasions around the right eye area.

Trades Council issues its endorsements

The Tri-City Central Trades and Labor Council, AFL-CIO, has issued its listing of candidates vying for various offices in the April 12 Quad-City elections — choosing not to endorse an incumbent Granite City alderman.

Candidates seeking the endorsement of the Trades Council recently appeared before its Legislative Committee during two recent Saturday interview sessions. Afterwards, candidates received either a full "endorsement" rating or a "favorable" rating, indicating they gave acceptable presentations, but did not gather enough backing for an endorsement.

Edwin Reiske, chairman of the Labor Council, said about an hour of debate preceded the endorsement decisions.

Of those interviewed, only Granite City Sixth Ward Alderman Walter Milton, finance committee chairman, and Madison Second Ward alderman candidate James Riskovsky, failed to receive either an endorsement or favorable rating.

According to Reiske, there were no objections to Milton, but his challenger, Woodrow Moad, won the endorsement through his interview answers, plus having a "good union background." It was strictly along union lines," he said. Milton is an administrator for the Southern Division of Pepsi-Cola Alton Bottling Inc.

Both Milton and Moad lost a bid for the Sixth Ward spot in the 1981 election to Stephen Saltich, although Moad pulled more votes than Milton in that race, 742 to Milton's 385. Apparently, some union members were unhappy with Mayor Paul Schuler's subsequent appointment of Milton to fill the Sixth Ward vacancy left when then Alderman Mac Warfield was appointed superintendent of streets.

Riskovsky was not eligible for union endorsement, because he owns and operates a non-union automotive shop, Reiske said. Although the chairman was pleased that Riskovsky appeared before the Trades Council.

Other ratings voted by the Trades Council, with (1) denoting the incumbent, were: the following:

GRANITE CITY

former vice president of the labor council, also faces no objections in his First Ward race. Although endorsed by the council, he received some criticism for not keeping open the lines of communication between the city and labor. Reiske asked why no alderman appear before local labor associations to keep them informed of city projects.

Morton pointed to the state's unemployment compensation laws as the reason industry has left the area, although the Legislative Committee members strongly disagreed with the alderman's assessment. Recent statistics have placed the unemployment rate in the middle range throughout the country.

Responding to questions about the city's controversial Wastewater Treatment Plant, Morton thinks the plant has neither too many nor too few employees. "They are not entitled to any more."

He does want more employees added to the Police Department, Morton, chairman of the aldermanic police committee, revealed his opinion that layed off police dispatcher should be returned to duty to allow police to return to the streets.

Morton blamed current sewer problems to past sewer projects that he alleged included pipes placed too deep in the ground. Defending the council's reinstatement of a monthly $50 expenses account, Morton said, "When I ran for that office (alderman) I was supposed to get the same amount of money before and after the election, the new alderman stopped it (expenses accounts) for a while."

Mac Warfield, superintendent of streets, was questioned about alleged unsafe sidewalk conditions near the Paul Seebold Concrete Company at 22nd Street. The superintendent said the issue has been addressed on the council floor, but no action has been taken. He sees no sense in repairing walkways there, if transport trucks and heavy equipment can be expected to continue parking near the concrete company.

On the subject of Granite City's multiplying sewer problems, Warfield said, "We've met with the federal

8 plan for retirements

Retirement plans of eight Granite City school employees have been approved by the Board of Education.

Retiring June 30 of this year will be Evelyn B. Laux, GCIS North librarian, and Robert B. Cowan, North social studies teacher. Gladys Wallace will retire June 10 as a Coolidge Junior High secretary.

Evelyn Laux, originally planning to retire after 1983-84, advanced the date one year due to the scheduled closing of North High.

She commented, "It has been my good fortune to work for the school district during a period of growth and I am privileged to have set up two new libraries, those at Prather and North." She thanked board members, administrators and faculty members and voiced special thanks to Principal Gilbert Walmesley for his steadfast support and encouragement.

Also advancing his retirement plans by one year, Cowan said his 13 years of teaching have been "both a challenge and a wonderful, rewarding experience. Thank you all for your confidence in me and I assure you I have tried to do the best job I was capable of doing."

"I am proud to have been a part of District Nine and will leave with the satisfaction that there is and always will be an excellent educational system in Granite City," Cowan said.

Retiring Dec. 31, 1983, will be Evelyn L. Glizik, Mitchell School secretary, while Annie Marie Johnson, a Marshall School cafeteria employee, will retire June 30, 1984.

Evelyn Glizik said, "My 22 years as an elementary school secretary have been a rewarding experience. I have thoroughly enjoyed working at Mitchell School. The entire staff and parents have been a pleasure to work with. I thank the Board for the opportunity to work in the Granite City school district. I am proud to be a part of such a fine school system."

Those scheduling retirements for more than three years from now, in June 1986, are John A. "Jack" Mulach, principal of Maryville School, and two cafeteria employees, Marinda Ward of Marshall and Lena Scher of Lake School.

Mulach thanked the board "for allowing me the opportunity to serve the district over the past 26 years. From my Marshall School days to Central Junior High, McKinley School and Maryville, I have enjoyed the years of serving both the community and the children of Granite City as a teacher and administrator."

Find burglary loot on trucks

Burglars ransacked the home of Howard J. Wigger, 2677 Adams St., after kicking in a rear door and breaking the storm door last week. Drawers were dumped out and items were scattered all over the dwelling.

A china cabinet drawer, which held silverware, and a gray metal box containing personal papers were among the items missing. An inventory was being compiled.

Some papers and a cube, bank, belonging to the homeowner, were found later the same night by Norfolk & Western Railroad employees, laying between railroad tracks south of 25th Street, it was reported.

Kevin Williamson earns Eagle Scout

The Eagle Board of Review of Boy Scout Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph Catholic Church, convened to review accomplishments of Kevin Williamson to receive the Eagle Scout badge, the highest award a scout can earn.

Board members include Stephen Kusmierczak Sr., chairman, and Joe Geisler, Andrew Timko and Clarence DeConia. Representing the Uniwah District of Cahokia Mound Council was the District Training Officer LeRoy Stark. Assisting the board was Eagle Scout Steve Kusmierczak.

Kevin Williamson, a junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 7, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Williamson of Madison. He is a freshman student at Granite City High School South.

His Eagle application is to be approved by the regional office of the Boy Scouts of America and the National Office, BSA and after this an Eagle Court of Honor will be held on April 15 to officially present the scout with the badge.

Mark Brazel is the next candidate for Eagle Scout, it was announced.

Life Scout Joe Kusmierczak now becomes an Eagle Scout as he prepares for his service project.

He has selected to participate in the Mississippi Barge Project, which involves the collection of clothing, shoes for children, medicine, vitamins, and canned and dried foods for the people of Honduras.

KANOPY DANCE CO. PLANS SUE SHOW

The Kanopy Dance Company, from Madison, Wis., will appear on the stage of the Communications Building theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Friday, March 11. The six-member troupe, with three men and three women, will begin their performance at 8:15 p.m.

According to David Huntley, director of the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums, sponsors of the event, the Kanopy group "has a uniquely fluid style that can be appreciated by any audience."

The group has a varied repertoire, the result of study with Erick Hawkins, A. and Bill Evans. Members of the company have studied at the Juilliard and the University of Wisconsin dance schools. Critics have lauded the Kanopy's ability to "couple physical strength... with emotional sensitivity."

Admission is $5 and tickets are available at the Union Station Ticket office in the University Center, or reservations may be made by calling 1-692-2320 or 1-692-2995.

SERVE WARRANTS ON COWMAN, 26

Monroe S. Morris, 26, of 2111a Benton St., was arrested last week at 19th and State Streets on four outstanding warrants, alleging failure to appear or pay on charges of possession of a hypodermic syringe, battery, aggravated assault and driving on an expired license.

He appeared in the Granite City court and was ordered to pay $325 by May 15 and was released.

$300 TV SET STOLEN

A burglar looted the apartment of Jesse W. Cabrera, 2900 W. 20th St., Thursday evening of a $300 color TV set, a $100 rifle, $42 black boots, a $35 watch, a $35 Korean jacket and $6 in coins.

Education cuts called catastrophic

Responding to the state budget message for next year, Illinois Federation of Teachers (IFT) President Robert Healey termed proposed cuts of $206 million in elementary and secondary education and $108 million in higher education as "nothing less than catastrophic."

The schools, Healey said Thursday, were severely hit when the current year's budget produced fewer dollars this year than in the preceding year, and "they were sent reeling again when the governor implemented $159 million of further budget cuts under the Emergency Budget Act (EBA)."

"The schools will not recover if they lose an additional $14 million from next year's budget."

"Major programs will be lost, children will be affected, the education they so desperately need in today's high-tech economy, and thousands of teachers and other educational workers will line up for employment compensation."

"The governor's budget message was doubly disheartening coming almost simultaneously with the Supreme Court ruling permitting implementation of the EBA cuts," the IFT leader said.

He called that decision extremely unwise, charging that tens of thousands of Illinois children, mental patients and aid recipients will be injured.

"The budget and court ruling make it clear that there is a desperate need for an increase in the state's income tax."

"We cannot continue to place the burden for the state's financial problems on the backs of those least able to provide for themselves and least able to defend themselves."

"If we don't bring educational funding back to appropriate levels, we will be depriving tens of thousands of students across the state of any chance of a decent future," Healey concluded.

Jail, payment of $3,500 ordered

Tina L. Adams, 20, of 2408 State St., appearing before Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill this year, was sentenced to 30 months of probation, with the last 90 days to be served in jail.

She also was fined $2,000 plus $200 costs and was ordered to make restitution of $1,300.

The Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois charged July 8 that she had delivered a controlled drug on two occasions. One offense occurred May 24, 1982, and the date of the other occurrence was not listed.

Guiltily pleas were submitted Dec. 17.

CLEANING KIT TAKEN

'M*A*S*H' Workmens' comp. rates below national average statistics

If you were watching the final episode of "M*A*S*H" last week, you weren't alone. The audience has been estimated at 125 million viewers, more than has watched any other TV show in the history of the medium.

Super Bowl XVII, on Jan. 30 this year, had an estimated 111 million viewers in comparison.

According to the A.C. Nielsen Co., which conducts scientific polls to determine ratings for TV programs, the last episode of "M*A*S*H" had a 60.3 percent rating, which surpassed the "Who shot J.R.?" episode of "Dallas." That episode of "Dallas" held the top ratings spot of all time with 53.3, until Monday night, that is.

Nearly eight out of 10 TVs were tuned into "M*A*S*H" last week, which attracted 77 percent of the total U.S. TV audience.

When compared to the 18 hours over eight nights of "The Winds of War" miniseries, "M*A*S*H," with its 125 million viewers for the night, nearly equaled the 140 million total for the week-long WW II saga.

Dennis Vickers and Debra Hustedt

Vickers-Hustedt

The engagement and forthcoming wedding of Miss Debra Hustedt and Dennis Vickers is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hustedt, 2717 Buxton Ave.

Parents of the prospective groom, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Vickers, reside at 21 Edwardo Drive. An April wedding to take place at the First Assembly of God Church is being planned by the engaged couple and their families.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School South.

Name 1st child Danyelle Hoff

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoff of Belleville became the parents of their first child, a daughter, born March 1 at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis. The mother is the former Kimberly Worster of Granite City.

The infant has been named Danyelle Rene and she weighed six pounds.

She is the first grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Shirley) Worster of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. Norman (Irene) Hoff of Fairview Heights.

The new arrival also is the first great-grandchild for the maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks (Pauline) Weir of Granite City and the paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. G. A. Curnel of Madisonville, Ky.

Burch-Long

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Long, 41 Villa Drive, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dina R. Long and Terry Burch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Burch, 2518 Iowa St.

Miss Long graduated in 1980 from Granite City High School South and is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

ALTON GROUP HONORS SEN. SAM VADALABENE

Pride, Incorporated of Alton has awarded State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) its highest honor, the Pride Metal of Achievement, for the legislator's "outstanding devotion and dedication to the preservation and enhancement of the environment of the communities served by Pride."

The group cited Vadalabene's work in various projects in the Alton area, as well as his contributions to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

GC STUDENT IS ON DEAN'S LIST

Jenni S. Miller, 3704 Nameoki Road, is among 674 students who qualified for the fall semester Dean's List at Southeast Missouri State University, the second highest total in the university's history.

The fall semester record for students on the Dean's List is 894, established during the first term of the 1979-80 academic year. During the fall semester of the 1981-82 school year, 867 students made the Dean's List.

To qualify for the Dean's List, a Southeast Missouri State student must be enrolled full-time, earn at least a 3.5 grade point average (halfway between an A and B), and make no grade lower than a C.

Cameo Society plans 'Bunny Breakfast'

Plans for an Easter Bunny Breakfast was the main topic of discussion at a meeting of the Cameo Society held last week in the home of Mrs. Linda Givens.

The event is set for March 19 and final arrangements are to be announced later, according to the president, Phyllis Talley.

Other activities include a play practice each Monday at 3:30 p.m. at Nameoki United Methodist Church and a social card party for members on March 19 at the home of Phyllis and Rick Talley.

The program for the night was on Income Tax Laws and was presented by Mary Staydhar.

During the business session reports were submitted by Linda Yates, recording secretary, Kim Harrison, treasurer, and Myrna Tessary, corresponding secretary.

The president announced the next meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Joyce Tracy.

A dessert salad was served after the meeting by the hostess and Mrs. Tracy, co-hostess. Others attending were Joyce Sullivan, Sandy DeMoulin, Judy Reidelberger, Pam Docton, Barbara Mihalich, Cindy Hollingshead, Ellen Voyles and Jane Jackstadt.

First child for former residents

Glen Carbon Police Chief and Mrs. Bill Moore, formerly of Granite City, became the parents of their first child, a son, born Wednesday, March 2, at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

The new arrival has been named Richard Keith Moore. He weighed 8 pounds, 12 ounces.

The mother is the former Deborah F. Ashburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Evelyn) Ashburn of Pearl, Ill., formerly of Granite City.

Mrs. Luella "Cindy" Moore of Granite City is the paternal grandmother. Mrs. Mabel McKinney of Granite City is the maternal grandmother.

The infant also is being welcomed by three half-sisters and four half-brothers.

Ruth Ford Circle meets at church

Mrs. Delores Ayers led members of the Ruth Ford Circle of Second Baptist Church in singing a hymn to open the monthly meeting of the group held, last week, at the church.

Prayer requests were taken and prayer offered by Mrs. Gladys Hudgens. Mrs. Hudgens also asked the members to sign greeting cards which will be forwarded to missionaries marking birthdays this month.

A letter was read from Nancy and Tom Jones who are serving as missionaries in Nairobi, Kenya. Prayer for the couple and for missionaries world wide was given by Mrs. Ruby Mayberry.

Naomi Burnett was in charge of the program on "Peter's Change in the Bible." She was assisted by Mrs. Ayers, Mrs. Mayberry, Alma Burnett, Bertha Kichler, Mina Duggins and Goldie Smith.

The mission in action project will be prayer meetings each Thursday at 11 a.m. beginning March 10 in preparation for the spring revival set for April 11 to April 17.

Others present were Rachael Westphal, Naomi Ronney and Florence Paul. Closing meditations were by Mrs. Ayers.

Chapter 1067 discusses retirement fund changes

Larry Hengehold, first vice-president of Chapter 1067 of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees (NARFE), introduced a researched legislative report in conjunction with the forthcoming congressional action concerning the Federal Retirement System, at a meeting held at Charlie's Restaurant.

"Currently the system is a very viable and monetarily healthy one. However, if certain recommendations of the President's Commission on Social Security Reform are adopted legislatively, there will be a steady erosion leading to the depletion of the Federal Retirement Fund. Promises of legislation to protect the financial well being of currently covered retiree is highly suspect in view of past presidential ignoring of enacted laws when it suited political expediency," Hengehold explained.

"It behooves all current federal employees and annuitants, be they sponsor or survivor, to maintain a steady stream of deeply concerned correspondence to their U.S. Senators and Congressmen," the chapter officer added.

During an open session, which followed his presentation, 11 proposals affecting the lives of three million government workers and annuitants contained in President Ronald Reagan's budget for Fiscal Year 1984 and almost all of which have an adverse impact, were discussed. These proposals were subject of considerable coverage in the Weekly Federal Employees News Digest under a headline which read, "Recipe for Catastrophe."

The same publication contained an article concerning a "hot line" set up by the White House for citizens to call if they have questions concerning the president's proposed budget. The number in Washington is Area Code 202-456-7639, Hengehold said.

President Harry McClintock opened the meeting and welcomed 75 members including five new members. They were Viola Burns, Veneta McCart, Olyn and Vivian Phillips and Esther Suva.

Also present was Jean Willis, a former local resident, who now lives in Tyler, Texas where she serves as secretary of a NARFE Chapter 44.

Members observed a moment of silence in memory of the late Beatrice Beck. The president also noted Jim Williams, a long time Army Depot civilian official and former mayor of East St. Louis, died Feb. 13.

Mrs. Georgiana McMillan, service officer, reminded the group that federal annuitants should study carefully a mailing recently received from the U.S. Office of Personnel Management concerning their avoidance or acceptance of federal tax withholding from monthly retirement checks.

Any retired federal employee wishing to become a member of the local chapter may do so by calling Helen Martin at 876-8450. The next meeting is set for 11:30 a.m. March 14, at Charlie's Restaurant, according to the president.

CHROMALLOY PLANS DIVIDEND, MEETING
The board of directors of Chromalloy American Corp. declared its regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share Thursday on Chromalloy's $5 cumulative convertible preferred stock, payable May 2 to stockholders of record April 14.

The date for the annual meeting of stockholders was set for May 11, and the record date for stockholders entitled to receive notice of and vote at that meeting was set for March 17.

Billie Schuler is Lace Award winner

Mrs. Billie Schuler was selected as the 1983 LACE Award winner by members of the Tri-Cities Chapter of Professional Secretaries International. The announcement was made at a dinner meeting held at Ravanelli's Restaurant.

The chapter presents the award each year in February to the member who is most liked by all members. Active in all chapter projects; Cooperative in all chapter events; and Enthusiastic about PSI in general and the Tri-Cities Chapter in particular.

Making the presentation was Mrs. Helen Christich and Sharon Werner, both 1982 LACE award winners.

Mrs. Schuler who is employed at the Tri-Cities Area United Way received a gold chain necklace and charm inscribed "1983 LACE Award" as honoree of the year.

The featured speaker for the evening was Delane DeFrates of Dictaphone, a Pinney Bowers Company. She demonstrated to the members the Dictaphone System 6000, a word processing machine, which can prepare letters, compose reports and documents, edit text, file information, do math, and arrange the figures neatly on financial documents, answer questions about the information on file and many other time saving features.

After her talk several members were given the opportunity to try the machine. During the business segment it was announced that Nancy Sanders of AVCO Services, Corp., had submitted her application for membership to Professional Secretaries International, PSI.

A nominating committee was appointed to select a state of officers for election at the March meeting.

Doris Ann Perdue Guilford was introduced as guest at the meeting. Any local secretary who is interested in more information about PSI are advised to contact Barbara Bauer, membership chairman, at 345-5413 or 344-4267.

Mr. and Mrs. Sotiroff anniversary honorees

Mr. and Mrs. Vassil Sotiroff of Granite City, were guests of honor at a reception marking their 40th wedding anniversary given, last week, at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Hosting the social event were members of the Tuesday Quilters of the church. Mrs. Sotiroff also is a member of the group.

A three tier wedding cake, frosted with red roses and centered with a small cluster of fresh red roses, was the focal point of the serving table which was covered with a red lace cloth. Guests were seated at individual tables decorated with white bud vases holding a red rose.

Cake, punch and coffee was served during the afternoon affair to 50 guests.

Mr. Sotiroff worked at General Steel Industries for many years, prior to his retirement. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sotiroff are members of Niedringhaus Church. He is a member of the Mens Bible Class and his wife taught a Sunday School class for many years.

Among the guests attending was a sister of Mrs. Sotiroff, Mrs. Bernice Grimm of Granite City, and a great-niece.

GO WITH EXPERIENCE . . .

WE'RE CELEBRATING
OUR 26th YEAR . . .

The Country's Oldest Lawn Spray Company . . .

We know, as all agronomists know, that the secret to beautiful grass is properly scheduled applications of fertilizer, weed killers to control both grass types (crabgrass) and broadleaf (dandelions, chickweed), weeds and insecticide to control both weevils, chinch bugs, etc.

Included in our spray program are applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN that NEVER STOPS FEEDING as long as your grass is growing and actually slows down its feeding during periods of low rainfall when it's not needed. If your lawn isn't receiving applications of NITROFOLIN you're not getting your money's worth.

THE GREEN LAWNS PLAN

Provides five sprays — early Spring, late Spring, Summer, late Summer, early Fall and Fall. It supplies fertilizers just when your lawn needs them. Five broadleaf weed sprays to control dandelion, chickweed, buckhorn, plantain, spurge . . . Those weeds that seem never to stop coming up from early Spring to late Fall. Crabgrass control and insecticide applications in the summer.

State DeMolay Mothers weekend

Mary D. Stuart, state president, Illinois State Council of DeMolay Mothers, conducted a one-day training session for DeMolay Mothers from Illinois to correspond with the DeMolay Ritual Competition Weekend, held at the Shearson Inn, Springfield, Ill.

The training session was to teach women more about the organization of DeMolay and function of a Mothers Club, which is to assist and help the DeMolay Chapter, and to provide refreshments.

The day was divided into several different sessions with a state officer conducting the session. Officers of the Illinois State Council of DeMolay Mothers is comprised of 18 women throughout the State of Illinois.

Monique Albert, state sweetheart, for Illinois DeMolay, attended the mothers session. Edward C. Bieser, executive officer of Illinois DeMolay; Alan A. Ferguson, state master; and James Bratton, executive administrator of directors, Illinois Order of DeMolay, took time from their schedule to speak to the group.

Local mothers, in addition to Mary D. Stuart, from the James Stuart DeMolay Mothers Club were state historian for the Illinois State Council of DeMolay Mothers, Jo Meyer; Barbara McKinney, Charlotte Mize, and Debbie Pritchett.

Swimming event for Troop 7

Boy Scout Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph Catholic Church, closed Scouting Anniversary Month with a swimming event at the Holiday Inn-Collinsville.

Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Steve Kusmierczak Jr. was the swim-master for the event, which included free swim periods, water bombardment, water soccer, swimming races, running races while in the water and ball relay races.

Before the scouts were permitted to swim, they were required to take their annual swimming ability tests and the BSA's Buddy System was used throughout the event.

Scout Ralph Walden Jr. completed the swimming requirements for the swimming skill award and the swimming requirement for First Class Scout.

Those attending were: Mark Brazel, Steve Kusmierczak, Kevin Williamson, Mike Brazel, Greg Hagen, Eddie Hoover, Joe Kusmierczak, Tom Scaturro and Ralph Walden.

After the event, the scouts enjoyed a pizza dinner at the Pizza Palace in Collinsville.

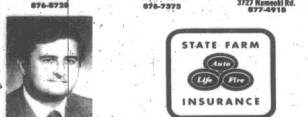

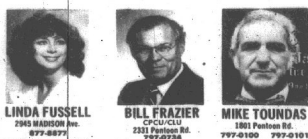

Providing the transportation were Assistant Scoutmaster Larry Williamson and Bob Hagen. Also attending were Shawn and Larry Williamson Jr. and Mrs. Betty Hagen.

Suggest early releases for Easter services

Quad-City area churches are invited to submit programs to be featured during the Easter season at respective churches to the Press-Record, 1815 Delmar Ave., as soon as possible for the religious pages.

Each article should include time of the event, date, sermon topic, minister's name, musical selections and other pertinent information.

Articles received by March 17 will have the best chance of being utilized in full detail.

GRANITE CITY RESIDENTS, Lillian Adams, Lillian Ruebhausen and Martha Melloy, seated, and Karen Nelson, Lucille Sackett and Arline Brinkmeyer, standing, are among the 40 people participating in the Homemakers Extension Association membership drive. The kickoff luncheon was held in Edwardsville, and above members represent the Isabel Bevier, Granite City, Trio and Creative Women Units of the Quad-City area.

Homemakers open membership drive

"Up and Away With HEA" is the theme for the 1983 Homemakers Extension Association membership drive, with a kick-off luncheon held in Edwardsville, last week.

Membership chairman from 29 county units, district vice-chairmen and county HEA board members attended the program which set the goal to boost extension membership from the present 1,000 to 1,068. The Homemakers Extension Association offers programs in home economics and related topics to interested persons, rural and urban, regardless of race, color, sex, national origin or religion as a service of the University of Illinois.

Mary Emmons, Troy, county membership chairman, formally opened the membership drive for those attending and presided at the noon luncheon.

Mrs. Emmons introduced Noreen Reeves, District 8 Director for the Illinois Homemakers Extension

Federation, who spoke to the group on how to increase and maintain membership. She also stressed ways to make a membership drive succeed.

The chairman explained that units are competing for honors in obtaining the most new members for the calendar year. Winning unit membership chairmen will receive an all-expensive paid trip to the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation annual meeting at the University of Illinois campus in Urbana-Champaign. Units with ten or more new members will be judged winner units, she added.

Tables were decorated with airplane favors and balloons to carry out the "Up and Away" theme. Membership qualifications within the units and opportunities of membership were discussed.

Also speaking during the luncheon program was Catherine Mauck, extension adviser.

Musical program at seniors meet

A special musical program by Everett and Mary Wyatt was featured at the monthly meeting of the Friendly Agers Senior Citizen Club of Second Baptist Church.

There were 44 members at guests at the session held in the church hall. Bob Lewis gave the opening prayer for the sick followed by the group singing several hymns led by Alice Hoffman. President Mina Duggins presided over the business segment, which included reports by club officers.

A reading of "Valentine Love" was given by Earl Spalding and Naomi Rogers read a letter from a hillbilly mother to her son in the Navy.

During the social hour several games were directed by Ruby Mayberry and the Rev. Carl Watkins gave the devotion taken from John 8:1 and offered the closing prayer.

Mrs. Mathias hosts circle

Mrs. Betty Mathias, 34 Oaklawn Drive, entertained the Rachel Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, Tuesday night, as the group discussed forthcoming programs and events of interest.

Mrs. Mable Gertsch, leader, opened the session with The Lord's Prayer followed by the Least Coin Devotion given by Mrs. Dolores Vogler, co-leader, on "Life Is A March."

Devotions were presented by Miss Dorothy Davis on excerpts taken from Wonderful Things Are Ahead For You by Norman Vincent Pease.

Mrs. Gertsch reminded the group of the Conference Spring Retreat to be held at Little Grassy on April 29. Reservations must be made by April 1, she added.

Volunteers are needed to assist with the Mobile Medical program and those who cannot work with the project may send a donation to continue the program, Mrs. Gertsch added.

Other announcements included a Mission Saturation Rally on April 20 at the Troy United Methodist Church. Theme of the rally is "Go Ye Into All The World, and Preach the Gospel."

Protestant Welfare is to store food and clothing for the Help-Pantry project to assist unemployed people in need. Several local churches are involved in this program, the leader said.

Envelopes and letters for the Easter offering were distributed during the meeting. Members were reminded that the church will host the Lenten Services at 7 p.m. on March 20. All Methodist churches in the area are participating in the "Lenten Season services," it was noted.

The Naomi Circle will host the March General Meeting and Rachel Circle will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. Phyllis Bills invited the group to her home for the April session. In closing she repeated the Global Prayer for Peace.

Others present were Kay Greene, Alice Hunsinger, Joan Mucho, Wanda Grothuis, and Elizabeth Briggs.

Cotter College seeks students

A report on Cotter College was given by Mrs. Mary Miller at the February meeting of Chapter HT, P.E.O. Sisterhood held in the youth center of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Miller said high school counselors should be aware of the college and its curriculum since the institution is now seeking new students for the fall term.

Mrs. Dorothy Buente spoke on the Educational Fund at the college noting that in Illinois from June 1982 to the present date a total of $47,000 was granted for scholarships and of that sum $8,900 has been paid back.

The program for the day was an updated informational presentation by Steve Missey of St. Elizabeth Medical Center on the cardiac pulmonary resuscitation project.

Hostesses Mrs. Loretta Reiske and Mrs. Nina Marshman served refreshments to those named and to Marie Gordon, Pat Konzen, Betty Mathias, Jewell Back, Ann State, JoAnne Gaumer, Faith Holsinger, Gail Miosky, Marguerite Hayama, Georgia Surbey, Helen Stoever, Lee Suraz, Margaret Pennell, and Susan Morgan.

Trio Unit hears Catherine Mauck

Mrs. Catherine Mauck, home extension advisor from Edwardsville, was the guest speaker at the March meeting of Trio Unit, Home-makers Extension Association, held at Hope Lutheran Church.

She chose the topic, "Are You Listening?" for the major lesson.

Prior to the meeting refreshments were served to members by hostesses Ruth Brave, Lucy Stewart and Florence Kapp. They decorated the tables with shamrocks and floral arrangements in keeping with the St. Patrick's "wearing of the green" theme.

Chairman Arline Brinkmeyer called the meeting to order and led the group in reciting the pledge to the flag.

Minutes of the February meeting were read by Vivian Forshee, secretary, and the presence Rapp gave a financial report.

Other reports were submitted by Lucille Sackett.

Nu Zeta Chapter plans new events

Nu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, kept a busy schedule during the first months of meetings to plan future events, programs and become involved in a community agency project.

To open the new year of sessions, members selected rose buddies (secret pals) and chose Rhonda Sweetheart. She was guest of honor at a dinner held at the Cattle Company in St. Louis which was followed by a white elephant sale in the home of Marcee Johnson.

A former member, Marge Williams of Winter Haven, Fla., visited the chapter members and attended a meeting before returning to her home.

A skating party for 35 members and guests was hosted by the chapter and was preceded with dinner at Godfather's Pizza.

Carl Meyer from the Mental Health Clinic spoke at last month's meeting, about the services of the clinic and

Ruth Circle plans May Style Show

The Ruth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church met in the church parlor, last week, and members finalized plans to host a Ladies Spring Style Show and banquet on May 22. Details of the event will be announced later, according to Sharon Shaffer, circle leader.

On April 28 a "Mission Saturation Event" will be hosted at the Troy Methodist Church. The entire East St. Louis District is invited, Mrs. Shaffer added.

Members also discussed the forthcoming "Lunchon

ILL. REALTY SPRING MEET IN MT. VERNON

"Picking Up Steam" is the theme of the March 30-31 Illinois Realtors' spring conference, to be held at the Holiday Inn in Mt. Vernon. Now in its eighth consecutive year, it is the largest annual program in Downstate Illinois for real estate professionals. Speakers from across the nation will discuss latest developments and techniques for effective and profitable real estate operations. Highlighting the program will be a talk by the president of the 400,000-member National Association of Realtors, Harley Snyder, at a dinner March 30.

HISTORY OF AREA FLOODS MARCH 7

The Old Six Mile House Historical Society will hear Clara Schilling speak on the various floods that have ravaged this area in the past. Her topic will be "When the Floods Came." The speakers lived on Chouteau Island and experienced the problems of high water there.

The group will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight, at Tri-Mor Bowl on Nameoki Road. Refreshments will be served.

Prodigal Son circle topic

Devotions entitled, "The Prodigal Son" as presented by Mrs. Harriet Phelps at a meeting of the Day Missionary Circle of Mount Zion General Baptist Church, last week.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Lena Barnett, 2310 Benton St. for the session which opened with Bessie Phillips leading in song. Mrs. Dorothy Chepley gave the prayer.

A lesson on "The Father Love" was given by Betty Warren. Mrs. Jerry Sharp of Washington, Mo., a former member, spoke about the mission field.

President Flo Monroe presided over the business segment and read a letter from the Rev. Robert Carr family who are serving as missionaries in the Philippines. He is a former pastor of the church and the group agreed to send $25 love offering to the family to help a bed for the church nursery there.

Discussions were on sponsoring a chili supper and attending the Illinois one day convention on April 23 in St. Louis.

An election of officers was held with Mary Goodall named president, Carolyn Lemaster, vice-president, Lillie Graf, secretary and Ann Schubert, treasurer.

Mrs. Lemaster closed the session with prayer followed by refreshments. A birthday cake was served in honor of four members with March birthdays.

Other attending were Mrs. Ollie Harmon, Mrs. Jessie Millman, and Mrs. Edith E. Erion. Mrs. Goodall invited the group to meet in her home, 2550 Iowa St., for the April session.

Circle plans rummage sale

Plans for a rummage sale on May 7 were approved by members of the Every Nameoki United Methodist Church, during a meeting hosted by Mrs. Norma Hildes. The project will be held in the youth room at the church, it was noted.

Mrs. Luan Briner presided over the meeting and Pat Bernalx gave the opening prayer. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and Gail Klee gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Briner presented the donation taken from the Ecclesiastes Chapter 12 and "The Four Calls" from the Daily Bread publication.

During the meeting a collection for the Least Coin was taken. The March 22 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Lois Holsinger and Mrs. Riden will deliver the lesson, the president announced.

Joe Gonzalez benefit dance set March 12

The annual Joseph Gonzalez benefit dance, sponsored by the Mexican Honorary Commission, will be held Saturday, March 12, at the Honorary Commission Hall, 1801 Spruce St., according to an announcement by Robert Hines Jr., chairman of the event.

Tickets costing $2 per person may be purchased at the door on the night of the affair, and beer and set-ups will be available, the chairman added.

Music for dancing will be provided by "The Tapestry" band. All proceeds from the dance will be forwarded to the Joseph-Gonzalez Scholarship Fund.

First Baptist plans survey

Members of The First Baptist Church, 2041 Delmar Ave., will be knocking on doors and ringing doorbells beginning March 13.

This survey is being conducted to enlarge the church as well as determine the religious makeup of the community. An emphasis will be placed on encouraging the people of Granite City to attend and support their churches in worship attendance and Bible Study, according to the Rev. Jack Cicolella.

Other fund raising projects were discussed and it was decided to sponsor a rummage sale with the date and time to be approved at the next meeting.

In closing the group recited the Mothers Creed in unison.

Hostesses for the evening were Anna Wofford and Mrs. Pritchett. Others present were Rene Buckingham, Mary Church, Betty Ebrecht, Hilda Few, Jo Meyer, Charlotte Mize, Martha Simpson, Beverly Singley, Vera Stuart, Ruby Sullivan, Pat Tsipolaroff, Ina Meyer and Mary Stuart.

Refreshments were served by the Mothers Club to DeMolays and advisors after their meeting.

Kathleen Offt gives lesson

Mrs. Kathleen Offt presented a lesson on "The Mother of Jesus" written by Jim Bishop at the monthly meeting of Esther Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The group gathered in the home of Mrs. Eula Davis, 2721 Sunset Drive, for the session. Mrs. Shirley Lane offered the opening prayer followed by the business segment conducted by Mrs. Ethel Lerch, circle leader.

As part of the program, Mrs. Ruby Corbett spoke on the topic, "The Least Coin" by Jorgolina Lojedo of Argentina.

A general meeting of the United Methodist Women will convene on Thursday, March 10, in Wesley Hall.

Hostesses Mrs. Davis and Jean Wallace served refreshments to those named to Ann Earey, Pearl Campbell, Maxine Hacke, Pauline Cox, Grace Paddock, Dorothy Frohardt, Karen Ambush and Mary Roland.

Lasting impact on pupils, Dr. Gill warns

The new state budget may have serious lasting effects on students in Illinois, State Superintendent of Education Donald G. Gill warned Thursday.

"Never before have the needs of Illinois schools been so pervasive," Gill said, "and never before has a budget been presented which promises to leave so many of those needs unmet."

"With the reduced budget of 1982-83, schools are operating with about $20 million less state support for programs and services than during 1981-82."

The 1983-84 budget presented by the governor would cut in excess of $200 million more from programs and services for elementary and secondary education.

"In fact, the budget would set the clock back four years for schools. The proposed level would be about $30 million less than the total appropriation for elementary and secondary education in 1978-79."

"Without question," Dr. Gill predicted, "many class sizes would have to be increased and many important programs would be eliminated or reduced."

"These sacrifices in educational quality are not recoverable losses. A generation of our youth would be deprived of the education necessary to prepare them for the challenges of the future."

"Education is our key to the future. Surely the cost of a tax increase is less than the costs to be borne by a society which fails to prepare its future leaders."

"The alternatives are to pay a little more now to meet the educational needs of our youth or to pay a lot more because of lost opportunities to improve our future."

Troop 13 holds Court of Honor

Boy Scout Troop 13, sponsored by St. Elizabeth Church, held a Court of Honor, last week, in the church cafeteria with Mark Schilling serving as master of ceremonies for his communication merit badge.

Glen Hornum, advancement chairman, presented awards to the following scouts: Tenderfoot Rank, Stephen Urant, Charles Bjorklund, Joe Pates, Stephen Friedel, Richard Schaus, Mike Evanoff, Eric Achenbach, Brian Eric Slover and Mike Patterson. Miniature pins were presented to the boys' mothers along with their badges.

Those receiving second class rank were Bill Rickert and Ed Ramire; first class, Mike Paul and David Plautz; and merit badges to Joe Zinn, Mark Vehlning, Jim Friedel and David Plautz and Mike Paul.

Bruce Woodall was inducted into the troop following a presentation ceremony.

Backpacking Merit Badges earned in August at the Philmont National Scout Ranch, N.M., were also awarded to Brian Giese, Darin Cluts, James Wilson, Kevin Haddock, Jim Friedel, Joe Zinn, Mark Vehlning, Paul Miskell, Tim Berwer and Rich Stimac.

Members of the Order of the Arrow presented a slide presentation of a Camp Sunnen promotion by Jim Friedel and Paul Miskell.

Scoutmaster Marvin Wiedemer answered questions pertaining to Camp Sunnen for the new scouts and their parents.

He also announced the Order of the Arrow will sponsor a Pancake and Sausage Breakfast on March 20 at St. Elizabeth cafeteria and will attend a Scout-O-Rama on May 14 at the Wilson Park Ice Rink. They held a paper drive during the weekend.

Thompson asks Congress to ease burden of unemployment insurance

Governor James R. Thompson told a Senate committee Thursday that Congress should ease the financial burden facing states that owe billions of dollars to the federal government for loans to state unemployment insurance (UI) systems.

"The financial integrity of (the UI) system is now threatened... because of economic and political forces similar to those which have pushed the Social Security system to a financial cliff," the governor said in testimony before the Senate Finance Committee.

Thompson said that state and federal governments, what he called "partners" in funding UI systems, "must now act in a cooperative and bipartisan fashion to rescue our financial future without destroying the essence of the program."

The governor told the panel, chaired by Kansas Sen. Robert Dole, that the long-term solvency of UI systems in Illinois and other states hinges on action to reduce a burgeoning debt to the federal government and the delay of interest payments states owe Washington for loans to UI systems.

"The imposition of interest has become a federal penalty," he said, "payable at the worst time by those least able to pay. No amount of state foresight, no responsible level of state sacrifice would have prevented the severity of our plight."

Thompson, appearing before the committee as governor of Illinois and on behalf of the National Governors' Association, outlined three steps he said Congress should approve that would help those states that take action before October, 1984.

to change current tax and benefit structures. They include:

• Deferring federal interest on state borrowing for fiscal years 1984, giving states "the necessary time to regain solvency" and freeing federal government from future loans to state UI systems.

• Applying Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) tax credits to states' interest-bearing debts rather than non-interest bearing debts, thereby reversing current policy.

• Maintaining the 1981 and 1982 FUTA penalty cap for employers, in which businesses' rebates from FUTA taxes are trimmed by a certain percentage, through 1983 and beyond.

Businesses in states that are hardest hit by the recession should not be further burdened by paying even higher taxes, Thompson told the committee.

In addition, the governor said that Illinois and other states must enact more reforms in their individuals UI system. Illinois, which approved nearly $500 million in benefit and tax reforms in 1981, again is calling on business, labor and legislative leaders to find more ways to "curb our projected deficits and retard the solvency gap," he said.

Thompson, along with several other state officials, will open the first meeting of the group asked to discuss the unemployment insurance system in Illinois at 1 p.m. Friday at the Executive Mansion.

Burns to represent himself in challenge

Madison County Board member Charles Burns of Edwardsville will represent himself in a challenge to the election last November.

Burns' opponent in the election, John Mull, is seeking a recount in the District 11 race and, at a hearing last week, Associate Judge Charles Roman ruled that Burns could not be represented by the state's attorney's office. Official results show Burns, a Democrat, defeated Mull, a Republican, by four votes.

Burns filed a petition asking for a lawyer in the state's attorney's office other than State's Attorney Don Weber because of a potential conflict. At last month's board meeting, Burns withdrew a motion calling for an investigation of charges made against Weber by Belleville attorney Amiel Cotto.

But Roman ruled Burns, a lawyer himself, must represent himself or hire an attorney because this case does not deal with Burns' official capacity.

A hearing on Burns' motion to strike Mull's recount petition has been set for Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Burns said he will base his case on the unsuccessful attempt of Adlai Stevenson to get a recount after his loss to Governor James Thompson in last November's gubernatorial election.

"They had fraud all over the place and precincts not counted, and with all that stuff, the Supreme Court said it's still not enough to change the election," Burns said. "You have to have a strong showing that a recount would change the election, even if the election is close."

Mull's petition for a recount alleges fraud or mistake in certain precincts in District 11.

Man steals tractor-trailer truck

A Granite City man drove off in a tractor-trailer truck that was parked at the Inn Between Tavern, 5200 Maryville Road, and he later was arrested at the levee.

The truck, owned by C. J. Heck of Salem, Ill., was being driven by Rick Pollard, who told Madison County sheriff's deputies that he left the truck running, but locked, when he went into the tavern to have a beer.

David L. Smith, 25, of 2529 Lynch Ave., the suspect who was arrested and charged with felony theft, came into the tavern with another man and Pollard said that they acted as if they knew employees and patrons there.

Pollard said the men went into the restroom before leaving the tavern. He said the two kept looking at him when they were in the tavern. One of the men said he was going to take his friend home and they left.

Pollard said he heard a vehicle with a loud muffler being started in the parking lot. He said he saw the vehicle leave the parking lot and then saw the truck leave behind it.

The truck, with the automobile trailing behind it, traveled west on West Chain of Rocks Road toward Highway 3. A patrol from the tavern pursued the truck and vehicle and Pollard called deputies from Ray's Truck Plaza.

The truck continued toward Hartford. Deputies searched the area and saw the truck travel north on Chouteau Island at the levee. Chouteau found the truck and the vehicle, parked about 20 p.m. Saturday at 12th and Iowa Streets.

The motorist was charged with driving while his license was suspended and leaving the scene of an accident after it was learned that a pickup truck, allegedly driven by Koehler, had struck a parked auto, owned by Robert T. Finley, 1817 Collinsville Ave., Madison.

The impact then pushed the truck into a vehicle into a pickup truck belonging to Bill Welkman of Madison, which also was parked at the curb at 12th and Iowa. The motorist was released upon posting a $102 cash bond, pending a hearing April 22.

Reporting that she was momentarily blinded by the sun and did not see the other auto, she was taken by ambulance for hospital care along with a passenger in the other car, Janet Cowley, 40, of 2805 Sunset.

Two were hurt last week in a collision between the auto of Edward Cowley, 2905 Sunset Drive, eastbound across Nameoki Road at Jill Avenue, and the westbound car of Cho Chong, 27, of 2594 Fropes Ave., who was turning left to go south.

Two checks for $120 and $178, both signed by a woman and drawn on the Commerce Bank of St. Louis account of a St. Louis resident, were returned to Mason's, 19 Nameoki Village Shopping Center, marked account closed. It was reported at 1:20 p.m. Friday.

A white 1980 Yamaha motorcycle was stolen from the utility shed of Don Robertson, 3913 Washburn Ave., he reported Thursday.

Two youths, 15 and 16 years old, were charged with disorderly violation last week, following an incident outside Mr. B's Restaurant, 3030 Madison Ave.

An officer was called there and talked with two youths, who allegedly were creating problems and calling the manager obscene names. The youths agreed to go home, but apparently returned twice more, walking past the restaurant and yelling obscenities.

The officer saw the pair walking in the parking area from the front of the store and placed them under arrest. Their families were notified and the youths were released to their parents on notices to appear before juvenile authorities.

Rowane was charged with two counts of leaving a scene of an accident. His passenger, James R. Claussen, 19, of 3116 Edgewood Ave., was charged with two counts of failing to give information after an accident.

The two then allegedly fled on foot and were caught by officers near Nieldinghaus School. Box reportedly sustained injuries.

Law changed on disability ruling appeals

Starting now, people who are appealing the decision to stop their Social Security disability benefits can elect to have their benefits and Medicare protection continued until the appeal has been decided by an administrative law judge.

Oliver Holmes, Social Security district manager, said this is the result of a change in the law enacted on Jan. 12.

Benefit payments may be resumed starting in February 1983 for January 1983, but there may be no payments for months before January 1983. And no benefits can be paid for months beyond June 1984, even if the appeal has not been decided by that time, Holmes said.

Under the old law, disability benefits generally were continued only for two months after the month a decision was made that the person was no longer disabled, and benefits could not be resumed unless the person won an appeal.

The new law applies to cases in which a decision is made after Jan. 12, 1983, and before October 1983 to end disability benefits. It also applies to cases in which a reconsideration decision or a hearing before an administrative law judge is still pending.

People should be aware, Holmes said, that if they elect to have benefit payments continued and they lose their appeal, they may have to repay the disability benefits they received while their appeal was pending.

Of course, if the final decision is that the person is still disabled, benefits will continue unchanged, he added.

The new provision does not apply to those whose initial claim for disability benefits is denied. These people cannot receive any benefits unless they receive a favorable decision on their claim.

Arrest driver and passenger

Two accidents, one involving a church van, last week, resulted in the arrest of the driver of a vehicle and his passenger, both of whom allegedly fled on foot from the scene of the second mishap.

Ronald A. Rowane, 17, of 1938 Benton St., reportedly was driving an auto which came around a corner from Bradley Avenue into Princeton Drive and slid into a parked van, owned by the Church of the Nazarene, 4701 Highway 111.

Rowane's car allegedly left the scene south on Princeton and, a short distance away, the driver reportedly lost control of the car and struck a tree outside 3225 Princeton Drive.

The two then allegedly fled on foot and were caught by officers near Nieldinghaus School. Box reportedly sustained injuries.

Arrest youths

Two youths, 15 and 16 years old, were charged with disorderly violation last week, following an incident outside Mr. B's Restaurant, 3030 Madison Ave.

An officer was called there and talked with two youths, who allegedly were creating problems and calling the manager obscene names. The youths agreed to go home, but apparently returned twice more, walking past the restaurant and yelling obscenities.

The officer saw the pair walking in the parking area from the front of the store and placed them under arrest. Their families were notified and the youths were released to their parents on notices to appear before juvenile authorities.

Proclaim Nurses' Week

Governor James R. Thompson has officially proclaimed March 6 through 12, 1983 to be Illinois Nurses' Week. The annual celebration honoring the state's 80,000 registered professional nurses is sponsored by the Illinois Nurses Association (INA).

Using the theme "Nursing: Close Encounters of the Human Kind," District nurses associations across the state are conducting special activities this week to emphasize the profession's important role in providing essential health care services and in promoting the health and welfare of all citizens.

The 1983 Illinois Nurses Week theme reflects the profession's long-standing commitment to quality health care which meets human needs. Nurses today are highly educated, skilled professionals who work in a variety of practice settings and capacities — as health providers, health teachers and health advocates, the association points out.

Through INA, their professional organization, Illinois nurses are working to promote passage of appropriate health care legislation; to advance the status of the profession; and to maintain high standards of nursing education and practice.

This year marks the 24th consecutive year the INA has sponsored Illinois Nurses Week.

Checking out a parked car in the 2400 block of Washington Avenue at 12:40 a.m. Sunday, an officer learned that an active warrant alleging failing to pay the fine on a charge of failure to give information after an accident, was on file against the vehicle's owner, Robert G. Theis, 2147a Lee Ave. Theis was arrested and later released on notice to appear.

ZONING HEARINGS LOCALLY TOMORROW

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in three Quad-City area locations Tuesday to study zoning requests for a flower shop and for two mobile homes.

The board first will meet at 9:05 a.m. Tuesday at 4123 Division St., where Lois Abernathy is requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home. The property is in the Hartlines Subdivision of Nameoki Township and is zoned R-3 for single-family residential use.

At 9:35 a.m. Tuesday, the zoning board will meet at 1700 Courtney Blvd., where Steve and Sandra Szadai, by their agent Carl Hoffman, and Irvin Lynn Lasky and Deborah Ann Lasky, purchasers, are requesting a variance to allow them to use an existing business building for a flower shop. The property is zoned R-4 for residential use and is in Nameoki Township.

The third hearing will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday at 2642 North St., in the Bloodworth Subdivision of Venice Township, where Fred I. Flaughter is requesting a special use permit to continue the placement of a double-wide mobile home on the property for his family. The property is zoned R-4.

SUSPECT CAPTURED

A juvenile boy was captured by Granite City police on Kilarney Drive and was charged with stealing a $4 baseball cap from Parkside Confectionery, 3202 Maryville Road, at 4:30 p.m. Thursday. Another juvenile boy was booked for resisting arrest. Both were released to return for hearings.

20 accidents in GC

More than 20 accidents occurred in Granite City between Friday and early Sunday morning, but few of those reported were serious and only a couple involved persons who sustained minor injuries.

An accident at 1:30 p.m. Saturday on West Pontoon Road at Rode Avenue involved four vehicles in two separate sequences and resulted in one driver suffering a minor injury and two traffic citations being issued.

Reports said the initial mishap occurred when an eastbound vehicle operated

DISCUSS IMAGE OF CAREER WOMEN

The March meeting of the Southern Illinois Network of Women will be Wednesday at Fisher's Restaurant in Belleville. A cocktail hour will be from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Dinner reservations must be made in advance.

The featured speaker this month will be Charlotte King of Professional Image Design who will present a program designed to maximize the professional image of today's career woman.

All Metro-East women interested in career development and networking are invited to attend.

Dinner reservations can be made by calling Kathi Mathis at 1-636-0657, John Moore at 1-377-0560 or P. L. "Perky" Temple at 1-239-0609.

Supreme Court upholds Thompson budget powers

Governor James R. Thompson says that the state Supreme Court's decision in favor of the Emergency Budget Act will allow the state to continue meeting the state's Fiscal 1983 problems associated with the lingering recession.

The act was approved by the General Assembly last December, temporarily giving the governor limited power to make reductions in Fiscal 1983 budget.

"I am obviously pleased that the Illinois Supreme Court has upheld the right of the Legislature to grant budget-cutting powers to the governor, for these reductions are necessary for the well-being of our state in this fiscal year.

"We now face a new fiscal year with either another round of what I would consider unacceptable cuts, or we can restore our services through the tax plan I have presented in my budget speech to legislators.

"With the help of the Emergency Budget Act, we will now be able to get through the current fiscal year having met a major revenue shortfall.

"I am determined that we will live within our available revenues in Fiscal 1983 in the absence of new revenues. We have no choice in that. But for the coming fiscal year, we need to increase those revenues to restore important programs that have been cut.

"I also would like to thank Special Assistant Attorney General Samuel K. Skinner for representing the governor in this most important case.

Under the Emergency Budget Act, the governor was granted the power to make cuts of up to $164 million in the Fiscal 1983 budget, including those cuts made by other constitutional officers. The governor reduced the budget by more than $158 million in those departments and agencies under his control.

'Worst' Ill. budget plan is assailed

A "worst case" 1983-84 budget—sharply slashing state programs due to a financial squeeze—was presented by Gov. James R. Thompson last week, the same day his 1982-83 budget trimming was upheld by the Illinois Supreme Court.

Stung by proposed deletion, or reduction of services, critics said the description could be shortened to the "worst" budget ever submitted to Illinois legislators.

SIU officials said "a short-run disaster" and "long-term catastrophe" are shaping up for universities. Thompson proposed a $13.9 billion appropriation, down 3.6 percent, calling it "inadequate, but all we can afford with current revenues." Few senators and representatives have responded favorably to his call for higher taxes, including a 90 percent rise in the state income tax on individuals.

The governor reiterated that his tax proposals would permit retention of selected programs eliminated in this budget, restore to an adequate level the funding for certain critical programs, and boost funding for selected programs, particularly education.

"Without the four-year tax plan, Illinois faces drastic cuts in services needed by its children, its poor and those who cannot help themselves."

Saying the economic recession has state revenue growth, Thompson concluded that unless there are tax increases the state should reduce schools by $206 million, universities and colleges by $108 million, mental health by $39 million, and programs for cities and counties $234 million.

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois supports his call for a permanent rise in gasoline and liquor taxes and license fees. But it opposes a permanent income tax boost and instead suggests a temporary surcharge on the income tax.

The state budget director said that Illinois probably will have to borrow $150 million to $200 million to meet operating costs this spring.

MIGHTY MOUNTAINS TO OPEN THURSDAY

Unity Ensemble of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will present "Mighty Mountains Loom Before Me and I Can't Stop Now," Thursday through Sunday, March 10 to 13.

"Mighty Mountains" is a collection of works that present a historical perspective of blacks' fight for justice and freedom, according to Ralph Greene, Unity Ensemble director.

All performances start at 8 p.m. in the East St. Louis Development Corporation (ESLIDEC) Community Theater, 3706 Caseyville Ave.

"Mighty Mountains" is a total theater experience incorporating poetry, song and dance, Greene said.

For ticket information, interested persons may contact Ralph Greene or Bonnie Harmon at 271-300, extension 59.

RED CROSS OFFERS FIRST AID COURSE

A multi-media first aid course will be conducted by the American Red Cross in two four-hour sessions, March 29 and 30 from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. at the American Red Cross office, 2100 Edison Ave.

The course will be taught by Ray Snelson and will include bleeding control, splinting and bandaging. There will be a nominal fee for the purchase of a book. Pre-registration is required. Persons wanting more information or wishing to pre-register may call the Red Cross at 452-7184.

Benefit fashion plans take shape

The annual Spring Fashion Extravaganza intended to help the community "spring into fashion" is in the planning stages by its sponsor, The People's Organization to Benefit the Children of Venice.

The show will be conducted at 7 p.m. April 9 at the Venice Recreation Center, Venice. Admission prices will be $2 for adults and $1 for children. The event will feature the crowning of the teenage King and Queen of Venice, said Anna Claggett is serving as chairman of the event.

All performances start at 8 p.m. in the East St. Louis Development Corporation (ESLIDEC) Community Theater, 3706 Caseyville Ave.

"Mighty Mountains" is a total theater experience incorporating poetry, song and dance, Greene said.

For ticket information, interested persons may contact Ralph Greene or Bonnie Harmon at 271-300, extension 59.

JAZZ CONCERT AT SIUE THURSDAY

A jazz concert featuring the music of Singleton Palmer, the Tres Bien Quartet and the jazz orchestra of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be presented Thursday, March 10, at the SIUE East St. Louis Center.

The concert will be presented from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the lower level auditorium of the East St. Center, located at 411 E. Broadway.

The concert is free of charge and partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Art Council. For additional information, interested persons may call the General Services Office at 271-300, extension 73.

SOCCER CLUB TO HAVE SPAGHETTI DINNER

The Rutkowski Girls' Soccer Club will have a spaghetti dinner, Friday, March 11, at the Salvation Army Hall, 3007 E. 23rd St., with serving from 5 to 8 p.m.

The cost is $3 for adults, $1.50 for children 6 to 12 and free for children under 6. The meal includes all-you-can-eat spaghetti, bread, one salad, one dessert and one drink. Additional drinks will be available for a nominal cost.

The menu will include meatless spaghetti sauce for those observing Lent. Carrots will be available.

'Thorn Birds' introduced lovebirds

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Regardless of ratings (and they should be encouragingly hefty), "The Thorn Birds" as produced by David Wolper for ABC-TV has succeeded in at least one respect.

During production of the nine-hour ABC Novel for Television to air March 27 through 30, Rachel Ward, who plays the key role of Meggie Cleary, and Bryan Brown, a sheep shearer in the show as well as Meggie's husband, fall in love.

They'll get married in April.

Another product of the filming was Rachel's maturation as an actress.

In the long drama based on Colleen McCullough's extremely popular novel, Ward, a relatively inexperienced actress when she went into the show, was surrounded by such talented veterans as Barbara Stanwyck, Jean Simmons, Richard-Kiley, Piper Laurie, Christopher Plummer and Richard Chamberlain. And it was Chamberlain in particular who helped her through.

According to executive producer David Wolper and producer Stan Margulies, Ward's first reading for the part of Meggie was "totally disappointing." Nevertheless, they asked her to read again.

"And the second time," says Wolper, "She knocked us off our seats."

Between tries, Rachel had worked with a coach, Sandra Secat, with whom she continued to work throughout the shooting. So that Secat's feeling for a scene wouldn't be in conflict with that of director Daryl Duke, the coach, who also coached Jessica Lange for "Frances," kept discussions going with Margulies and Duke.

Even so, Rachel had certain problems.

"She doesn't have the formal training some of the others have had," Margulies mentions, "and this puts a burden on those she's working with."

"If you have to do several takes, Richard (Chamberlain) will give you the same thing back for 27 performances."

But the intensity and quality of Rachel's work would vary from take to take.

"Richard is so secure as an actor," the producers say, "that he never complained."

While the film called for Rachel as Meggie to be lusting for Chamberlain's character, Father Ralph de Bricassart, the actress was in actuality falling in love with Brown.

But the romance went in stages and only began heating up about the time Brown finished his work, so it didn't complicate performances.

The picture covers so long a time span that Ward played not only a young girl but the mother of a grown woman.

"She and Mare Winningham, who played her daughter, are almost the same age," Wolper points out, "but in their scenes together, they seem to be of different generations. Rachel had become such a competent actress by that time!"

Like the novel, "The Thorn Birds" featuring a lusting priest and maiden out back is toney soap opera.

Novelist McCullough has seen neither script nor mini-series. "But," Wolper predicts, "she will see the show and love it."

So, probably will you.

Dean Torrance, formerly half of Jan and Dean, is now half of Dan and Mike, having teamed with Mike Love of the Beach Boys.

They've not only made a video cassette to be released in March through Radio Shack but they also will be touring together this spring, playing the fun spots where young people gather for spring break.

"I can't get over it," says Dean. "I'm still involved with spring break and getting paid for it."

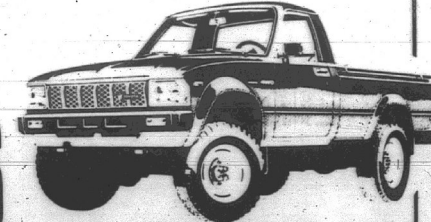

He doesn't speak unkindly of his former partner, Jan, but he says he can't work with him now, "because Jan has some psychological problems, and needs counseling."

Billy Moses doing what comes naturally

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Billy Moses of "Falcon Crest" has modified his ambition.

"I used to think I'd be president of the United States," he says. "But being president is a thankless job."

"My stepfather worked 18 years for the people of California and basically got a kick in the teeth."

Billy's stepfather is Al Bell who, as a California congressman, served a snazzy beach district in the Los Angeles area. When he tried to move up to the Senate, he was defeated. Billy's mother is actress Marian McCargo. His brothers, Rick and Harry Moses, are both professional actors also.

Like every politician, even Congressman Bell could be termed an actor, so it was almost inevitable that Billy would try his hand at the family trade.

He made his first try as a child.

"It was natural," he says, "since I have a mother who's an actress and got to be on location with her."

When he was only 7, he was on location with his mother in Durango, Mexico, where she was working in the "The Undeclared" with John Wayne and Rock Hudson.

"And that," Billy admits, "was impressive."

However, the kid quickly soured on performing as a career and decided he'd rather be president, not realizing that one calling could lead to the other.

At Wesleyan University in Connecticut and at the University of Southern California he majored in international relations in preparation for his anticipated White House stay.

But, as he became more disenchanted with politics, he found himself drawn back to acting. He kept his rekindled interest a secret from his kin.

"I studied in two or three acting workshops on the sly," Moses says, "because I wanted to make it as an actor without help from my family."

At first, Moses' new studies earned him only roles in television commercials, which of course aren't to be sneezed at.

However, he didn't really want to spend the rest of his life plugging soft drinks.

Finally he won the lead in a movie called "Choices." He got the part not so much because he could act but because he'd played football in school and the film called for a player who could interpret a quarterback with authority.

He was up for "The Powers of Matthew Starr," but wasn't cast.

He read for the Timothy Hutton role in "Ordinary People," and while he didn't get the part, he did get to spend some time with Robert Redford, which he relished.

At last, approximately two and a half years ago when he went up for "Falcon Crest," he was, in his own words, "at the point where I was handling rejection better and better. You get to the point where it's 'Catch 22.'"

He read six times, the last time against only one other actor for the part he was finally assigned in the series then called "The Vintage Years."

At that time, the show not only had a different name, it had different stars, Clu Gulager and Samantha Eggar rather than Bob Foxworth and Susan Oliver. Jane Wyman, though, was firmly cemented in as its super star.

"I'm glad they never aired the pilot," Billy says. While he might eventually like to direct, Moses is already writing. Writing but not selling.

"I submitted a script under a pseudonym," he confesses. "I just popped it into the mail. It was returned."

That, however, didn't discourage him. He's still writing. Among his jottings are scene breakdowns and daily reflections with which he's filled five notebooks.

"I'm a little calmer now about my work," Moses thinks. "If it doesn't happen today, that's OK. At first I was too afraid of failing on my face."

Moses doesn't say so but this may have crossed his mind. If, in the long run, acting doesn't work out, he could still run for president.

He wouldn't be the first actor who, when his career had leveled off, gave it a try.

Besides, as Billy says, he's learned to handle rejection and there's no better preparation for politics.

A man of very few words

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — The hospital depicted in the critically acclaimed NBC series "St. Elsewhere" is a pressure cooker of activity. But off the set DAVID MORSE, who portrays the sensitive Dr. Jack Morrison, admits to being a person who shies away from pressure and a man of very few words.

"It takes me six months to say more than six words to someone," David allowed. "I guess that's why I'm acting. In real life you could say I'm protecting myself. But I'm not insecure about the work that I do."

David is a person of contradictions. He'll tell you, "I like to live the outdoor life. It's the kind of way I grew up in (in Hamilton, Mass.). We lived on the ocean in a town that was three-quarters woods. That kind of life is comfortable."

But at the same time, David says, "I love living in New York City," where he keeps his main residence with wife, actress SUSAN von MOSCHIZSKER.

"The hard thing about adjusting to life in Los Angeles is that it's in between country and city," he continued. "I get excited in New York. You can walk anywhere."

Off the set, David is also an actor dedicated to stage work, to which he hopes to return during his hiatus if no film work of his choosing presents itself — fans will recall him from "Inside Moves."

"My character is not too different from myself," he remarked. "He's doing the best he can with his work and his family."

To become an actor David broke a Morse family mold. He acknowledges, "My father wanted us to grow up and be executives someplace." Instead, David went into repertory theater work in Boston for six years before trying his luck in Los Angeles.

He took "St. Elsewhere" because he honestly liked the script and concept. He had turned many series down before and insists, "A series would have to be pretty good for me to go with it should 'St. Elsewhere' end. What I'm doing now is new and exciting. In five years I don't know."

To channel his creative energies further, David has taken up painting, although he is loathe to call it "a hobby."

"I really avoid that word," he says. "This is just something I like to do. Painting takes no pressure. It's all up to me."

With the rash of TV movies centering on biographies of famous women, SUZANNE SOMERS wants in. Husband and manager ALAN HAMEL bought the biography of JUDY HOLLIDAY for her, but so far there has been no market for it. So, they've been talking to another production company which has a project on BETTY GRABLE in development.

There's no word yet on whether or not "One Day At A Time" will return next season. Sources say star BONNIE FRANKLIN is waiting to see if HOWARD HESSEMAN commits before she'll agree to return. Plans call for the series to rotate between stories revolving around VALERIE BERTINELLI and BOYD GAINES, MACKENZIE PHILLIPS and MICHAEL LEMBECK, and BONNIE and HOWARD, with maybe a third of the episodes featuring all the characters.

DOUG McKEON, who made such a stir in "On Golden Pond," will star in "Winners," about a boy at a summer football camp. CHARLES DURNING is slated to play the coach.

ANN JILLIAN makes the big screen in "Mr. Mom," a feature from the baron on television, AARON SPELLING.

It's DIANA SCARWID who has snagged the key role of Stella Kowalski in the upcoming ABC version of "A Streetcar Named Desire." KIM HUNTER played it in the movies, you'll recall.
